

Probers Seeking Cause of Chicago School Fire Which Took 90 Lives

Arson Possibility Being Considered

Chicago—(AP)—Grim investigators today shook off the shock of Chicago's worst school fire and strove to find the answer to this question:

"How did it happen and why?"

The fire that flashed through Our Lady of the Angels school yesterday cost 90 lives—87 children and three nuns.

More than 85 youngsters remained in hospitals.

It was Chicago's most disastrous blaze since the Iroquois theater holocaust in 1903 and the third worst school fire in the nation in 100 years.

The flames shot up in the 2-story brick building like fire from a blow torch. Heat and smoke trapped the victims on the upper floor of the north wing of the U-shaped structure.

Twenty-four bodies were found in one room. Most of them were jammed near windows. Firemen, sickened by the spectacle, said a few of the children were still at their desks, apparently nailed down by fear and panic.

Others leaped from windows. The little survivors suffered from burns, bones broken in falls and the shock of the horror they beheld.

Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn considered the possibility of arson. That possibility was raised by the swift spread of the blaze.

"It was the worst thing I have ever seen or ever will see," he said.

Quinn also said the black smoke indicated an oil-type fire.

The fire originated in the northeast corner of the school at 3808 W. Iowa street on the northwest side. Investigators pinpointed the place of origin below the street level.

A 30-gallon can was found in a stairwell in that section of the structure. It was taken to the police crime laboratory.

Waste Paper in Basement

Another possibility was that the fire sprang up in waste paper in the basement near that corner of the building.

Daniel O'Shea, 12, a pupil who carried the waste paper to the basement a few minutes before the fire started was questioned by police seeking to determine the cause of the disaster.

The boy said he left his seventh grade room with a basket of paper about 10 minutes before the fire began. He added that he dumped the paper in a container to be burned later by the janitor.

Sgt. Drew Brown, head of the police arson squad, said the waste paper was dumped in the boiler room about 15 feet from the stairwell where the fire was believed to have started.

If the fire started in the paper, how was it kindled? Nobody came forward with an answer.

One theory — and it was only a theory — was that a candle may have been discarded in the refuse.

Pope Sends Message

Sgt. Brown found black smudges on the lower walls of the stairwell that indicated an oil-like substance had burned there.

He stated that no evidence of a touchoff had been found thus far.

Pope John XXIII sent to the Chicago archdiocese a telegram of profound sorrow over the disaster in the Roman Catholic school.

"We have been profoundly

Hearing for Youth Dec. 10

Confessed Killer Of Green Bay Man Held Without Bond

Green Bay — Charged with first degree murder in the shooting of his stepfather, Kenneth Bucher, 19, Monday was ordered held without bond pending preliminary hearing Dec. 10.

The youth, who joked with officers while waiting arraignment before Municipal Judge Donald Gleason, was accused in the death of Elmer "Duke" McAllister, 57, in the cafe Friday. Eight .22 caliber bullets were found in McAllister's body.

Judge Gleason dismissed a second degree murder charge against Bucher's 45-year-old mother, Mrs. Sarah McAllister, who had told police she fired the shots after an argument with her husband. She was, at first, supported in her story by her son.

Dist. Atty. Robert Petitjean said she and an unidentified witness changed their accounts during weekend questioning. The mother said she admitted the shooting to protect Kenneth. Petitjean said the 5 foot, 11 inch youth and his mother had returned from a shopping trip and an argument developed between his mother and McAllister. The district attorney said McAllister struck his wife and the youth got a pistol from under a counter and fired.

The Transport Workers union pledged in state supreme court yesterday not to interfere with Pan American operations, pending the outcome of mediation over union demands. The line had accused the union of curtailing the amount of overtime its members could work.

Demand Fewer Hours

About 3,000 Pan American employees, including 1,400 at the air force's Cape Canaveral, Fla., missile base, are demanding fewer working hours in the 11-day-old TWA strike.

The contract expired at midnight last night. American Airlines, the nation's largest in passenger miles flown annually, escaped a rupture in operations when VanPelt Bryan continued a strike by 1,500 members of the Airline Pilots association. Talks were scheduled to resume today.

In Kansas City, negotiations between the national mediation board, said the International Association of Machinists and the carrier were "three inches apart on wages." On the League to bring in the name of its one Georgia member, "11,000 miles apart," he said.

Parcel Post Rate Increase Sought

Washington — The post office department today formally asked the interstate commerce commission to approve a 17.1 per cent increase in parcel post rates, designed to get the fourth class mail service back on a self-sustaining basis.

Postmaster General Summerfield announced this proposed advance in early October. At that time he estimated the department was handling parcel post at a loss of $88 million a year.

Postal officials said the proposals submitted today would bring in about $88.8 million more annually.

Court Action Eases Pressure on Airlines

2 Firms Win Added Time While Talks Are Underway to End 2 Other Walkouts

Court developments in New York City have eased pressure on two airlines involved in labor disputes. Talks aimed at ending strikes at two other lines continue today.

The strike moratoriums give breathing space to Pan American World Airways and American Airlines and keep their

Boy Confesses He Killed Girl

St. Louis, Mich. — A 15-year-old boy told police today he shot and killed a 12-year-old neighbor girl with a gun he borrowed from her brother.

Police Chief Herb Wolford identified the boy as Paul Leroy Rondeau, who lived two doors away from the victim, Carol Ann Risk. The youngster explained the slaying merely as saying "I had an urge to kill her," Wolford said.

Chief Wolford said the Rondeau boy said he borrowed a .25 caliber pistol from Carol's brother Michael Saturday on the pretext of using it for hunting.

When he saw the girl's parents downtown last night, the boy related, he knew Carol would be home alone and he rushed over to her house. He shot her through the head, and when she screamed and tried to get up from her chair shot her a second time.

Prominent Businessman and Wife Found Slain in Home

Mauston — A prominent Mauston businessman and his wife were found shot to death in their home Monday night and several hours later, authorities said, a 17-year-old girl apprehended in their automobile admitted killing them, ed by bullets from a .22 caliber automatic pistol.

The victims were Thomas Dakin, 46, a finance company president, and his wife, Betty, 43, parents of two daughters, aged 17 and 11.

Dist. Atty. William Brady said the girl who had admitted the double slaying would be taken before Juneau County Juvenile Judge William R. Curran later today on a delinquency petition. He declined to reveal any details of her statement.

Murder Charge Possible

Under Wisconsin law, the names of juvenile offenders may not be published. The district attorney said he might ask that the juvenile court waive jurisdiction and permit her to face prosecution on a murder charge.

The girl was taken into custody about 9:30 Monday night while driving toward Wisconsin Dells. She was returned to Mauston and questioned until 3 a.m. today by Dist. Atty. Brady and Coroner Clarence Sorenson.

Sorenson said Dakin was shot twice near the heart after he returned home around 8 p.m. from a Kiwanis club meeting. His body, still clad in a storm coat, was near that of his wife who lay at the bottom of a stairway in the living room. She had been shot four times in the head and chest.

Sorenson said she had been the first to die. Both were killed by bullets from a .22 caliber automatic pistol.

Jurors Being Chosen in Temple Bombing Trial

Atlanta — Selection of a jury continued today in the trial of the first of five men charged with dynamiting a Jewish temple in Atlanta on Oct. 12.

Six jurors were picked Monday in Fulton superior court after George Allen Bright, 31, a church, the judge said that Federal Dist. Judge Frederick was ordered to be tried under a law that could bring him the death penalty. Bright entered a plea of innocent.

Four other men have been charged in similar indictments and will be tried later. They are: Wallace H. Allen, Kenneth Chester Griffin, and Robert and Richard Bowling, all of Atlanta.

Defense attorneys argued at length that a Georgia statute providing the death penalty for dynamiting dwellings or other houses does not include houses of worship such as the temple, especially if they are unoccupied.

Suggest Plebiscite On Berlin Question

Plan Favored in Some Quarters as Challenge to Russia; if Defeated Reds Would Drop Demands

London —(AP)— Some allied diplomats today were reported in favor of challenging Nikita Khrushchev to a plebiscite in which West Berliners could accept or reject his proposal to make their city a demilitarized free city.

Qualified informants said under the proposal being suggested, if the 2,200,000 West Berliners rejected free-city status, Khrushchev would be obliged to dump his scheme and continue to abide by the existing 4-power occupation agreements.

If the West Berliners accepted the Soviet premier's proposals, then the Americans, British and French would be bound to withdraw their 10,000 troops from their sectors of the city.

Several Ideas

The informants stressed that this was only one of several ideas being pondered. The allied diplomats who favor some such proposal to Moscow said they are convinced:

1. That the Russians would not risk putting their proposals to the test of public opinion.
2. That in any vote the West Berliners would resoundingly reject the Russian proposals.

There was no indication whether the idea of challenging the Russians thus has yet been considered by allied governments at top level.

It is known, however, that Russia's move has started some fundamental thinking among the allies about their position not only in Berlin but in all Germany. There is a recognition in several allied capitals that, 13 years after the war, the time has come to examine new approaches and even take risks for the sake of another high-level east-west attempt at a German peace settlement.

Useful Purpose

Officials here believe that Khrushchev's move, so far as it has dramatized the need for a German settlement, has served a useful purpose.

Other preliminary conclusions reached by experts studying the Russian proposals are:

With the lever of Berlin, Khrushchev really is trying to open up the entire German question.

The specter of runaway German rearmament, taking place in a reunited vengeance-seeking Germany, still haunts Moscow.

For the first time the Russians seem ready to accept some sort of UN role in the search for a live-and-let-live arrangement with the west on Germany.

But Khrushchev's basic suggestions are completely unacceptable to the allies even as a subject for negotiation.

Moscow radio today anticipated a western call for a big-power conference on Germany but claimed its aim only would be to torpedo Russia's Berlin proposals.

Demands Settlement

"Actually it is an attempt to torpedo the U.S.S.R.'s realistic and concrete plan for eliminating the abnormal situation in Western Berlin," the English-language broadcast said.

Moscow agreed it would be incomparably better to solve the entire German question instead of only one of its aspects but made clear the Kremlin still demands a settlement which will preserve the communist hold on East Germany.

The broadcast said the Soviet Union wants "speedy reunification of Germany with full consideration of the actual state of affairs in both the western and eastern parts of the country."

"But the west," said the Russians, "insists on what it calls free elections. It deliberately ignores the circumstance that two German states exist with differing social systems."

CAB Moves to Protect Planes From Rocketry

Washington —(AP)— The civil aeronautics board stepped in today to protect airplanes from the hazards of amateur rocketry.

No airplane has been shot down by the amateur's missiles and rockets — toy or otherwise — but the CAB said there is growing concern over the hazards. It added:

"This concern has been enlarged by recent large scale production of rockets which are available to the general public at a relatively small cost through hobby shops and department stores."

Potential Weapons

To prevent such equipment from becoming potential anti-aircraft weapons, the CAB proposed a series of amendments to civil air regulations under which it controls air space. It will accept comments from anyone concerned until Jan. 27, and will act after that.

The board proposed to prohibit rocket and missile firings within five miles of any airport, and to ban them entirely in areas of controlled air space such as civil airways and airport traffic patterns.

The new rules also would prohibit firings to a height of more than 500 feet unless the launch site and firing were approved by the administrator of civil aeronautics.

The board tacitly conceded

Kills Sister, Mother, Takes Own Life

Saddle Rock, N. Y. —(AP)— A 14-year-old boy killed his mother and sister in their fashionable Long Island home here last night and then committed suicide, according to Nassau county police.

Miss Wiener

Pinnell, chief of Nassau detectives, said today that James Wiener killed his mother, Dorothy, 47, and his sister, Laurie, 26, with his 22-caliber repeater rifle, and then shot himself.

Pinnell said the mother and her daughter, who was a school teacher, had argued steadily in recent weeks and that the boy's resentment of the bickering apparently resulted in the triple tragedy.

The bodies were discovered by Allan Aaronoff, 28, a friend of the sister, and by Arthur Wiener, an uncle.

The father, Max Wiener, about 50, was at his advertising studio in Manhattan during the shooting.

Mrs. Wiener's body was found in the living room. One bullet had creased her scalp and a second lodged in her chest.

Pinnell said the boy killed his mother while his sister was in a basement workshop. As she started up a stairway, the detective chief said, the boy fired, hitting his sister under the left shoulder. A second shot struck her in the face.

This was the second fatal shooting in the county in 48 hours Saturday night. Richard C. Mazziotto, also 14, killed his 23-year-old aunt in Valley Stream. The boy has confessed to the shooting.

House Unit Asks Officials To Keep Ballots

Acts Amid Confusion In Battle Between Mrs. Knutson, Spouse

Washington —(AP)— A House committee has asked Minnesota authorities to preserve all ballots in the disputed election which brought defeat to Rep. Coya Knutson.

The committee acted yesterday amid confusion over the status of a $200,000 suit filed by Mrs. Knutson's husband, Andy, against William Kjeldahl, Mrs. Knutson's top aide.

Last week, Kjeldahl made public a letter purportedly from Andy Knutson and saying that Knutson was dropping his suit alleging alienation of affections and slander. That letter also said Knutson had fired his Washington lawyer, Benedict F. Fitzgerald.

No Right

Yesterday, Fitzgerald said Knutson had no right to act personally in dropping his suit. The lawyer also said he has not had any notice from Knutson that he has been removed from the case.

But the federal district court clerk's office said a memorandum signed by Knutson to dismiss the case was enough.

Without explaining why, Fitzgerald said his operatives have been watching Mrs. Knutson's apartment.

Mrs. Knutson declined to talk with newsmen yesterday, but a member of her office staff said the congresswoman was living with her husband. The aide said she did not know where they were staying.

Appeal to Wife

Differences between the Knutsons became news last spring when Andy publicly appealed to his blonde wife to give up politics and return home. He is a hotel operator in Oklee, Minn.

Disregarding this appeal, Mrs. Knutson ran for a third term but was defeated narrowly by Republican Odin Langen.

A letter announcement that her husband was dropping his suit against Kjeldahl, Rep. Knutson asked the house elections committee to look into the matter.

Claims Politics

Charging a malicious conspiracy, Mrs. Knutson contended her political opposition was back of her husband's "Coya, come home" efforts earlier this year.

In St. Paul, Minnesota Secretary of State Joseph Donovan received notification yesterday that the elections committee will look into Mrs. Knutson's charges.

Chairman Clifford Davis told Donovan in a telegram that Mrs. Knutson's complaint "establishes a case requiring investigating by the committee." He said a meeting will be called to consider a course of action.

Press League Pushes Bill to Open Meetings

Milwaukee —(AP)— The Wisconsin Daily Newspaper league voted Monday to sponsor a bill which would open to the public the great majority of meetings held by state and local government bodies in Wisconsin.

The proposed measure declares that "the public is entitled to the fullest and most complete information regarding the affairs of government as is compatible with the conduct of governmental affairs and the transaction of governmental business."

The bill emphasizes that certain meetings should be closed for the proper functions of government and states that it is not intended to prevent private executive meetings of those of judicial or quasi-judicial body of agency

Wildcat Milk Strike Ends In Detroit

Drivers Left Trucks To Protest Prices In Retail Stores

Detroit —(AP)— A wildcat strike of milk truck drivers in metropolitan Detroit ended today, 24 hours after it started. The drivers left their trucks in protest of cut-rate milk prices in retail stores.

Supermarket prices have been 2 to 7 cents a quart below those of home-delivered milk, on which drivers get a commission. Both sides agreed the situation had resulted in a decline in home deliveries and cancellation of some milk routes.

The work stoppage ended when rebel drivers agreed to creation of a study committee to be made up of 10 members from driver unions and 10 from milk dealers.

Unauthorized

The stoppage by some 3,000 milk route drivers was unauthorized and the strikers ignored union appeals to return to work under a no-strike clause in their contracts.

Deliveries were cut to a mere trickle yesterday in the Detroit metropolitan area of some 3½ million persons.

Home-delivered milk costs 24½ cents a quart. Many stores have been selling at 17 to 20 cents a quart.

One of Detroit's larger processors which declined to be quoted by name said its drivers averaged approximately $118 weekly on a flat wage of $30 a week plus commissions. It added, however, it knew of other companies with smaller routes and less frequent deliveries where drivers pay as low as $30 a week.

Listed Price

The listed price to supermarkets and other retail outlets normally is 3 cents less than home-delivered prices, but one processor spokesman explained "there is volume here and its a dog-eat-dog business with side deals like a bigger discount for bigger purchases and such."

Home-delivery drivers recently appeared at a suburban Pontiac supermarket selling milk at cut-rate prices for more than an hour in a commandeered all market shopping carts in sight and

De Gaulle Expects No Immediate Trouble in National Assembly

Vote Sweeps in Individualists Not Used to Parliamentary 'Harness'

Paris —(AP)— Charles de Gaulle, certain to be France's next president, expects a prolonged honeymoon period during which he can run the new national assembly without too much trouble from the rightist majority.

This point of view has been expressed repeatedly by his entourage before and since the election Sunday that swept into office a flock of individualists unused to parliamentary harness. Their reasons:

1. The heavy vote that threw out the old and brought in the new faces was a vote for de Gaulle and not for any party organization.

Peak of His Popularity

2. Nobody in the assembly is likely to risk his political future in a battle with de Gaulle at the peak of his popularity—which is likely to continue high for some time.

3. De Gaulle and his advisers loaded the new constitution to give the president just the power he wants to have over the assembly.

4. The mood of the country, as indicated by three successive national votes, is against any stubborn or obstructionist parliamentary hanky-panky.

Yet the election pushed Jacques Soustelle, leader of the overthrow of the fourth republic, into the front political rank. Around him will be grouped, at least nominally, nearly 250 of the 546 assembly members. Many alarmed liberals fear that Soustelle is out for a quick rise to dominance in France and will do whatever it takes to get there. Soustelle himself scoffs at the idea, and so do the people around de Gaulle.

Diehard Rightists

It is hard to see how Soustelle could challenge de Gaulle even on such a difficult problem as Algeria. Many of Soustelle's followers in North Africa don't see eye to eye with de Gaulle. But Soustelle himself comes nearer to agreeing with de Gaulle

Kohler Strike Hearings Set

Latest Round of Talks Will Open In Washington

Washington —(AP)— A new round of hearings in the long Kohler company strike, oldest major labor dispute in the nation, will open at Sheboygan, Dec. 16.

George A. Downing, national labor relations board trial examiner, announced today Monday. He said it has been approved by the plumbing-ware firm and Local 833 of the United Auto Workers.

Local 833 has been on strike at Kohler since April of 1954. The company resumed production with new workers and non-strikers two months after the strike began and remains in operation.

More than a year ago Downing recommended that Kohler be held guilty of unfair labor practices charges, but his finding was appealed to the full NLRB.

The labor board has never ruled on the case, but recently ordered Downing to reopen hearings to include new material developed in testimony presented to the senate rackeets investigating committee last spring. The testimony included charges of violence attributed to the union.

Pocket Knife Operation Fails, Man Succumbs

Dallas —(AP)— A doctor operated with a pocket knife and massaged a heart attack victim's heart to revive him yesterday, but the man died later in a hospital.

H. C. Connally, 47, a mechanic, was working on an airplane at a local airport when he collapsed. For 10 minutes he apparently did not breathe. Fellow workers applied artificial respiration, but to no avail.

The surgeon, a plane owner, happened by, borrowed a pocket knife, opened Connally's chest and massaged his heart.

He continued the process until the patient reached a hospital, but Connally died later.

Lawrentians Combine Talents, Issue Hi-Fi Record on Chicago

By Marguerite Schumann

Largest eminence a jazz-playing college boy could achieve a generation ago was landing a summer job on a Europe-bound student ship, and basking in the adoration of Ivy leaguers and their consorts while all of them wallowed across the North Atlantic together.

That is tired old stuff to the 1958 breed of jazz-playing college youth — like Lawrence college's Edward Doemland, Des Plaines, Ill., and Karl Schmidt, Chicago — whose phonograph records are selling in downtown Appleton while they are still beating the books on a full-time basis.

The record, "Windy City Profile" was cut during August at the Chicago RCA studio as an experience in high fidelity and is issued under the label of the Georgian Recording company. The latter is an organization of four Maine Township high school alumni who are interested in the field of sound engineering, and they, their fathers, and a couple of banks are responsible for financing the disc.

Doemland is one of the four — "10 bucks, 10 shares," he grins broadly — and it is his whose first two names are attached to the combo, the Ed- die Lee Quintet. Another Law- rentian is included in the combo — pianist Allen Bonde, of Manitowoc, who graduated in June.

Doemland is heard on piano and vibraphone ("I'd never played the vibes before, but they were sitting there in the recording studio, so I thought we'd use them") while Schmidt plays the clarinet and alto saxophone.

Original Works

Included among the pop- tunes on the record are two original works by members of the combo. They are an al- legro sketch from a jazz sym- phony Doemland is writing, the first movement of which was heard on the Phi Mu Al- pha-Sinfonia concert of Amer- ican music last winter; and a work of Bonde's called "Flun- ker's Fling."

Doemland, who won one of the four big academic fellow- ships Lawrence offers each year, and is majoring in chem- istry, has been writing music since he was seven years old, when he rapped off an 8-bar minuet for string quartet. "I give you no jazz," he remarks in that vernacular which col- lege youths, both musical and non-musical employ. "I had just read a book about the vi- ola clef and I was so excited I wrote something in three-four time." When did he learn to read? "Oh, at four or five— nothing real terrifying." In the intervening years, Doemland's family has en- couraged his interest in com- position, and have built an under-the-eaves studio and equipped it with two pianos in their home in Des Plaines. "It kills the family when I'm writing, though—I forget all about piano technique and pi- anissimo. Pianissimo tunes I can write in my head!"

Tone Poem

He has composed, in addition to the jazz symphony, which is about three-quarters done and should run close to 30 minutes when completed, a tone poem for piano and or- chestra called "Interplane- tary," which was performed by the Maine Township or- chestra during his senior year in high school; several an- themes for choir, a theme and variations for nine percussion instruments, a march for the AFROTC band squadron at Lawrence, and a good many arrangements for the frater- nity choir of Beta Theta Pi.

Doemland and Schmidt have teamed up on a song for Phi Mu Alpha-Sinfonia music frater- nity—"The only fraternity song in the nation written in 5-4 time! The words are as metaphysical as can be—they might have been written by Samuel Beckett!" (The boys are going through a Beckett period at the moment, since Karl just finished playing the lead in Beckett's abstract ex- pression drama "End- game" performed by the Law- rence college theater in mid-November.)

Although Karl, an English in- major, makes no pretense at being a serious composer, he has put his hand to the manu- script page, too. Karl's father says "zest and sparkle" for is supervisor of drama for the one, and another that de- scribes its as an album of the last five years has run "modified jazz melodies with the dramatic program at Hull a pleasing touch of sophistica- house as well. In the course of his youth work, he has true.

Try to Learn Cause Of School Tragedy

saddened," his message read, "to learn of the tragedy which has befallen the school of Our Lady of the Angels. We express from the heart our deepest sympathy with the parents. To the families thus sorely stricken we impart our apostolic benediction in token of the fullness of the heavenly consolation in their sorrow."

Just 18 minutes was the difference between life and death for the 1,300 pupils and black-robed teachers in the school. The first box alarm was turned in at 2:42 p.m. The school let out at 3 p.m.

Within minutes the building, turned into a wild, screaming inferno. Smoke and heat filled staircases and second floor corridors so fast that normal exits were impassable.

Heat, Smoke Fatal

"We are trapped. We are trapped," nuns screamed from the windows as they huddled with groups of pupils.

Many children panicked, stampeded to windows. Some leaped to a crunching death on sidewalks below rather than face the searing heat and burning smoke.

"Nothing killed those kids but heat and smoke," Quinn said. "They just couldn't get out into the corridor to go downstairs."

Nearly all of the eighth grade class in two upper floor classrooms perished.

The screams of the children trapped on upper floors drifted down to hundreds of horrified spectators and hysterical parents standing below in the 30-degree cold.

Firemen raised ladders and brought down dozens of shocked pupils. Priests on the scene even before the firefighters, led out others.

Nuns with disregard for their own safety, rolled some students down staircases. Children ducked to the floor seeking cool and fresh air, and crawled out. Others groped their way to freedom by grasping hands and belt buckles of classmates and filing out the smoke-filled structure.

Fire Too Rapid

For some there was no rescue, however.

"God, we tried. God how we tried," sobbed one fireman. "But we couldn't move fast enough. No one could live in that fire."

As the bodies were brought down in the eerie, hazy light, parents pushed against police lines, crying "Where are our children? Where are our children?"

The dead were placed in a courtyard where only a few hours before the children had been laughing and playing.

The injured were taken to seven nearby west side hospitals. Twenty-two victims died en route to hospitals or soon after arrival. Sixty-eight bodies were sent directly to the morgue where parents and relatives gathered for the dreaded identification official.

Of the dead 51 were girls and 34 boys. The heroic nuns accounted for the other three.

The U-shaped school was built some 40 years ago. It was remodeled about five years ago. Fire officials said the school was checked last October and no violations were found. Exits were adequate, they said, and the ceilings were of wood lath and plaster. There were no false ceilings. The heating plant is fueled by oil.

A single fire escape with exits from the first and second floors was in the center of the rear or east side of the building — the bottom of the "U" which joined the wings.

As news of the impending disaster spread through the low income neighborhood, hundreds rushed to the scene. Grief-stricken parents began crashing through police cordons as the dead were removed. Several persons fainted in the surging mass of humanity.

Priests walked through the crowd and stood near the doomed building, administering extreme unction, last rite of the Catholic church.

As in most tragedies, there were countless tales of heroism.

A nun, who refused to identify herself, made three trips into the blistering fire, each time leading out six pupils. "I felt untold strength," she told newsmen while being treated for burns at St. Anne's hospital.

Casimir Janik, 38, a milkman, said an unexplainable impulse made him alter his regular route home. He arrived at the school before firemen. He parked nearby, and several times ran into the school, carrying burned children to safety.

"I found one girl, her shoes missing," he said. "Hanging on to a banister, seemingly in a state of shock. I yanked her loose, took her to church and placed her on a pew. Twice I carried two girls out. One under each arm."

Pushed From Window

Linda Barleto, 12, said she was pushed out of a window in a second floor classroom. "Our backs were burning. Then someone pushed me out the window." She suffered burns and bruises.

Her cousin, Andrea Gagliardo, 12, told newsmen some of the boys jumped out the window. When we looked out we saw them lying still on the ground. It was like a miracle when we saw the firemen with their ladders.

A boy who lives across from the school, Leroy Hewlett 13, gave this graphic description:

"Kids were hanging from the windows jumping or falling in groups of three or four at a time. Smoke and flame poured from the windows. A little girl stood at the window of a ledge, screaming for help."

Early reports that there had been an explosion were discounted by firemen. Commissioner Quinn said the boiler room was intact. Then he said "This could have been a touch-off. It spread too rapidly."

Fire investigators were closely checking the story of Mrs. Barbara Glowacki who operates a candy store adjacent to the school on the north. She said just before she learned about the fire a man came into her store and asked to use a telephone.

The man, said Mrs. Glowacki, ran out quickly, calling out "the school is on fire," after she told him she had no public telephone.

Police began a search for the man, described as middle-aged.

News of the disaster brought city school and church officials to the scene. Archbishop Albert Gregory Meyer, recently installed as head of the Chicago archdiocese, stood stunned at the scene in a statement he said later.

"In this hour of supreme tragedy, my heart goes out in sympathy to all the bereaved families who lost children in this fire, as well as to those living

Living Costs Big Mexican Problem

New President Lays Stress On Domestic Difficulties

Mexico City—President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, who says the only communist menace in Mexico is the "cafeteria," today tackled the country's major problem — the high cost of living.

The remedy, he says, is to "create abundance the only solution to our economic and social problems."

The 48-year-old lawyer and former labor minister — regarded as a political moderate in Mexico — laid stress on domestic problems in his inaugural speech yesterday.

"We Mexicans," he said, "must achieve the greatest possible development with monetary stability. We must produce and export more, invigorate our foreign trade, adjust our imports, keep our budget in balance and reinforce our capacity for payments abroad."

The inauguration went off without any disturbances. The communists gave up an attempt to stage an anti-American demonstration on the arrival of Sec. of State Dulles.

Added Social Security

Lopez Mateos, an admirer of the Roosevelt New Deal, launched his 6-year administration with a program pledged to increasing social security benefits.

who have loved ones among the injured.

Inside the burned out building were remnants of the victim's last day of school. A water logged geography book which would never be used again by its owner. The charred desk of a nun. A wool mitten trampled underfoot.

A block away as dusk set in on the grim scene, a loudspeaker blared Christmas carols, joyous music for the living.

Tragedy 3rd Worst School Fire for U. S.

Chicago — The fire that struck Our Lady of Angels school yesterday was the third worst school fire in the nation in the last 100 years and the worst in the city in 55 years.

The greatest school disaster occurred March 18, 1937, when 204 died in a school explosion and fire in New London, Texas.

The other major school fire claimed 176 lives in the Collinwood school in Cleveland on March 4, 1906.

The worst fire in Chicago took 602 lives on Dec. 30, 1903, when the Iroquois theater burned. More than 1,900 were injured.

Twelve years ago, 61 persons perished in a fire in the LaSalle hotel, Chicago. Nearly 230 others were injured in that blaze June 5, 1946, 30 of them seriously.

Boston Tragedy

There have been 26 fires in this country in which as many as 50 persons died. Two were school fires. Only eight fires with such a loss of life have occurred in the last 20 years, none of them in schools.

Worst of these recent fires was the Coconut Grove Night club blaze in Boston on Nov. 28, 1942, in which 498 died.

Other fires with major losses of life in the last two decades are:

Dec. 7, 1946 — 119 dead in Wincoff hotel fire, Atlanta, Ga.

Oct. 20, 1944 — 135 killed in Cleveland liquid gas explosion and fire.

July 6, 1944 — 168 dead in Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey circus fire at Hartford, Conn.

April 23, 1940 — 198 killed in Negro dance hall fire at Natchez, Miss.

that he would work to strengthen ties with other Latin American nations and with the United States.

He pledged his government to carry on the fight for "harmony, cooperation and peace with justice, for non-intervention and reciprocal respect between nations."

Accused of False Entry $800,000 Variation Found in Books Of California Bank

Los Angeles — Federal authorities have arrested a suburban banker on a charge of making a false entry of more than $800,000 in the bank's records.

The U.S. attorney's office said more arrests are expected today.

"The shortage at the bank may be in excess of $1 million," the FBI said yesterday.

as it arrested John E. Petersen, 49. He resigned several days ago as vice president and cashier of the Sun Valley National bank. The bank was sold Saturday.

Just what happened to the money was not explained. It was originally reported that Petersen had been accused of misappropriating the funds, but the FBI said the charge against him was that he "made or caused to be made a false entry in the bank's records."

No Details Given

The falsification consisted of failing to charge to the individual customers' accounts at least $800,000 paid out by the bank for checks drawn on the accounts, said William Alexander, of the Los Angeles FBI bureau.

Neither the FBI, the bank or the U.S. attorney's office would offer any further explanation. Bank examiners are still trying to unravel the problem, Alexander said.

All Petersen said was: "I don't have any of this money." Asked by reporters what he had taken over "certain assets and assumed liabilities" of the Sun Valley bank "to preserve the confidence of its depositors."

2 Men Crused After Tractor Plunges Into Deep Crevasse

McMurdo Sound, Antarctica — A tractor carrying two members of a U.S. trail-marking party dropped down a 110-foot crevasse Monday, but both men escaped serious injury.

The men were navy construction driver Lawrence 000 bail.

Sun Valley National was sold Saturday to the Security-First National bank of Los Angeles. The sale was announced yesterday shortly before disclosure of the shortage was made.

Security-First National officials would not comment on the shortage except to say they had taken over "certain assets and assumed liabilities" of the Sun Valley bank "to preserve the confidence of its depositors."

Renwick of Harrisville, W. Va., and Marine Cpl. Morgan Norval of Buffalo, Wyo.

They were members of a 10-man party marking a 480-mile trail from the Little America base to McMurdo sound in preparation for abandonment of Little America.

The two men on the tractor were moving along at the end of the group 28 miles from McMurdo when 20 feet of ice hiding the crevasse gave way beneath them.

The men dropped out of sight but were able to yell up to the others. Renwick said he felt a sinking sensation as the ice gave way.

"I woke up at the bottom. I was conscious only to a degree," he said. "Another driver came down and helped me up a steel wire ladder."

Jordan's Ruler Lifts Martial Law

Amman, Jordan — Martial law was lifted Monday and Jordan's citizens resumed almost normal living after 19 months under the military restrictions.

The order ending the martial regime was issued Saturday night by King Hussein, who clamped on the iron rule in April, 1957, during a crisis created by alleged efforts of Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic to smash the Jordan monarchy.

Military rule was intensified at the time of the coup in Iraq last July when Hussein's cousin, King Faisal, was murdered and a similar plot against Hussein uncovered.

Arraigned for First Degree Murder Monday afternoon in Green Bay was Kenneth Bucher, 19, in the fatal shooting of his step-father, Elmer McAllister, Friday. Mrs. McAllister confessed the slaying in an effort to shield her son. Kenneth, who has admitted the shooting, was held without bond for a hearing Dec. 10. (Story on Page 1.)

College Group Symbol of Religious Unity Notes 30th Anniversary

BY BOB THOMAS

Los Angeles — A Catholic bishop offered a prayer, bowing their heads were a Jewish rabbi and ministers of the Baptist, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Latter Day Saints, Congregational and other denominations.

Thus began the birthday party for an organization that for 30 years has confounded those who claim that the great American religions cannot work together.

The clergymen and 200 others last night celebrated 30 years of the University Religious conference, a unique experiment in interfaith unity.

The dinner was held at the conference's new $500,000 building next to the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles.

In 1928 the various religious groups sought a meeting place to propagate faith amid the free-thinking students of the era. State law prohibited any such move by the university.

One of the founders, now Catholic Bishop Thomas K. Gorman of Dallas, told how it started: "We met in a hotel room and we were suspicious of each other. We weren't used to working together... and one might think the other had an ulterior or underhanded motive."

"We weren't going to compromise. It was not a question of compromise but of achieving what we could only do together."

As the conference grew it attracted wide interest. One meeting drew the attention of a 1941 German newspaper which headlined that a minister and a priest ate dinner with a rabbi in Los Angeles.

Recognized Differences

Executive Director Adeline Guenther said the religions have worked well together because the founders wisely "planned for no wiping out of differences, but chose instead the harder way of recognizing the importance of all differences and learning to live with them."

She told of the conference activities: a student-run camp for 650 underprivileged children; the Panel of Americans— young speakers who tell of their religious and racial backgrounds; and one of the most far-reaching, Operation India. In seven summers UC-LA students have talked to a half million students in India. They have been credited "with doing more than a little action on this earth."

Girl Returns in Time To Perish in Fire

Chicago — Margaret Chambers was forced to stay home from her fourth grade classes at Our Lady of the Angels Catholic grade school yesterday morning because she had a cold.

At noon the 9-year-old pupil told her mother, Mrs. Rose Chambers, she wanted to go to school in the afternoon. Reluctantly, her mother granted permission.

Margaret was one of the 87 pupils who perished in the fire.

Last Apache Scout Dies

Alamogordo, N.M. — Bigmouth, famed as the last of the Apache scouts, was buried at Mesalero, N. M., yesterday. He died Friday at the age of 108.

Bigmouth — the only name he ever had — served as a scout for the U. S. cavalry during the Indian wars.

He had lived at Mesalero for 95 years and had served as reservation peace officer.

Gregg Sherwood Pays $100 Fine For Drunkenness

Los Angeles — Auto heir Horace Dodge's wife, former actress Gregg Sherwood Dodge, was fined $100 yesterday on a drunk charge.

She was convicted of that charge but acquitted of four counts of assaulting two policemen and two policemen while they were booking her. She countered that officers manhandled and humiliated her.

Arrested with her was Chicago columnist Irv Kupcinet, who faces trial on a drunk driving charge this month.

to break the power of communism in the Indian student world," said Director Guenther.

Another founder, Rabbi Edgar Magnin, summed up the conference: "This is God in action on this earth."

Highway Bonds for Wisconsin?

During a recent visit to Green Bay Gov.-elect Nelson announced that he was heartily in favor of a proposal advanced by a Milwaukee banker to have the state issue $250 millions worth of revenue bonds for the purpose of building four lane highways and expressways.

The governor-elect's endorsement of this proposal struck many people as startling since he had only recently concluded a campaign in which he had denounced the state's policy of issuing revenue bonds for building office buildings and dormitories. He had described such loans as bootleg debt and had appeared to be critical of the Thomson administration for increasing such indebtedness.

John C. Lohb, who urged the highway bond idea, is chairman of the Metropolitan Study commission and executive vice president of the Marine National Exchange Bank in Milwaukee. He suggested that the $250,000,000 would cost approximately 4 per cent in interest. He said the debt could readily be repaid from the gasoline and motor vehicle taxes which now bring in about $106 millions per year. The advantage of such an issue, he contended, would be to permit the construction and use of highways immediately. He argues that if the state had started such a program 10 years ago it would now have the much needed roads and the increase in the cost construction over the 10-year period would more than offset the interest charges.

Gov.-elect Nelson accepted this argument, wholesale and added some thoughts of his own. He pointed out that the highways are needed as an encouragement to industry which might be attracted to the state and to hold a share of the tourist travel which, he said, appears to be favoring the Michigan roads on trips from Chicago north. He says that highway construction costs have doubled since 1948 and that the same thing is going to be true in the next 10 years.

No one can argue with the claim that so long as we are in an inflationary spiral it would be good business to borrow for construction. But this argument most certainly applies to the building of dormitories and office buildings as well as to highways. The buildings which the state financed and erected during the past several years are now certainly worth more than they cost, including the interest paid or due. During the election campaign, Nelson bewailed the state's "bootleg debt" but failed to mention the rich assets the state had acquired in buildings and furnishings which most certainly are worth more than the cost of replacement.

Furthermore it should be noted that Nelson did not flinch at the estimated 4 per cent interest for highway bonds, yet he had made a big point out of the interest paid by the building corporations although it was less than 4 per cent. He said Wisconsin should be borrowing legally on the full faith in credit of the state and thus profit by the lower interest rate he says the state could get.

We realize that the governor-elect is now busily engaged in working out the state budget and has not had time to present his financing plans in detail, but in the meantime he should realize, as we are sure most of the people in the state do, that facts do not change overnight merely because one person rather than another happened to be elected to office.

The Real Wayne Morse

United States Sen. Wayne Morse, a native of Wisconsin who became a law school dean in Oregon and then branched out into a highly successful political career in that state, has always held himself out as something special among politicians. He obviously thinks of himself as the nation's greatest intellectual liberal, and in addition has treated his political colleagues with the condescension of a superior being. Who can forget the lecture he delivered at the 1956 Democratic convention, when he hored the delegates with a long-winded exposition of constitutional law which not only was inappropriate and dull but not very logical either?

A man who holds himself out as such a giant among pygmies is pretty sure to have hidden weaknesses which eventually will be exposed. Morse's downfall came this year in the Oregon gubernatorial election. The state's other Democratic leaders were well aware that the Republican candidate for governor, Mark Hatfield, had been involved in a tragic traffic accident 18 years ago. Hatfield, then 17, while driving his car struck and killed a little girl; a jury held that he had been negligent. The Democratic leaders carefully avoided any reference to this during the campaign, which was the only decent thing to do; Hatfield had paid his debt to society, and had since built a fine business and political career.

Boss Kettering's Great Success

The death of Charles E. Kettering at 82 should serve to remind many people of how much they owe of their comfort and convenience to one person. "Boss Kett," as he was known to his intimates, had many inventions to his credit and he was generously rewarded in cash for his work.

No one of his inventions ever paid a fraction of the value received from such inventions for that matter. On the other hand the millions piled up in the name of Kettering never had much meaning to him. If his wealth had been half as much, or if it had been twice as much, either would have been equally meaningless to him.

Although he had something like 150 inventions in his name he is popularly associated with the automobile. Of course, the electric radio, the fan, and the mechanical refrigerator. These four inventions made a tremendous contribution to the building of modern America. One of the earliest starters in an example in many of the things he invented, he could be said to have made a fortune for himself and for his women, and this probably accounts for his doubling the demand for cars. He once said it adds much to the enjoyment of life to use of the automobile. The electric car, as we all have known for so many years, is as to be remembered by most of us.

Perhaps more important were his contributions to the army and navy during World Wars I and II. During World War I he invented the ignition system for the Liberty airplane motor and had plans for an automatically controlled airplane. Kettering's laboratories producing diesel motors, had been working closely with the

But Wayne Morse knew better. At the last minute he burst into the news columns with an "expose" of this dark chapter in Hatfield's past. The state's other Democrats, including Gov. Holmes who was seeking reelection, tore their hair in frustration as they realized that Morse had probably thrown the election away. They were right. The people rose up in anger and elected Hatfield in the face of a national Democratic landslide.

Many successful men have had tragedies in their personal lives which their friends and enemies alike have decently permitted them to forget. It is a basic rule of American society that a man should not be punished forever because of some mistake he once made. Morse's attack on Hatfield is especially ironic because the titular leader of Morse's own party — Adlai Stevenson — has a similar shadow hanging over him (as a boy, playing with a gun, he killed a young playmate) yet no responsible Republican ever brought up this fact during Stevenson's two campaigns for the presidency.

When Morse was a Republican he embarrassed his party as often as he helped it, now he is doing the same thing as a Democrat. No doubt many Democrats wish they could give him back to the Republicans.

navy as early as 1937 and when World War II broke out he had a marine motor in production. Under his direction the laboratories cooperated in developing marine propellers, aerial torpedoes, gyroflight control instruments, heavy duty lubricants and many other items the importance of which cannot be estimated.

In his later years he was honored in many colleges and universities. On such occasions he often advised students to get out into the shops and go to work. He had the notion that it was necessary to know the problem before it could be solved.

An illustration of this was his discovery of the fact that at one time it required 37 hours to paint an automobile. When he discussed this with the painters and the paint manufacturers, they gradually conceded that it might be possible to reduce the time by an hour or two. Knowing the problem, he set out to solve it and soon proved that a car could be painted in less than one hour. To him the words "scientific" meant something "you don't know anything about" and "to search meant," "You are willing to sweat to find out." Later he said 90 per cent of research is just getting along with the things you are working with.

It was Mrs. Kettering who saved the first war which enabled him to combine his talents. He decided to form the Dayton Laboratories and Laboratories company, which later became famous under its initials DFLCO and put him on his way to greater fame. He worked largely for the joy of working and was richly rewarded for it by great wealth and by the opportunities he had to serve others.

Catlin-Bubolz Tangle Didn't Help County Republican Party

From The Seymour Press

Mark Catlin and Gordon Bubolz took the "harmony" out of an Outagamie County Republican harmony meeting by bringing their personal al differences out in open battle at the meeting.

The action by these two men in this newspaper's opinion was on the disgraceful side. Whatever personal grievance they hold against each other after the November election should be decided outside the party and not at scheduled meetings.

While the action of Catlin and Bubolz left a lot to be desired, even more so was the action of the party chairman Appleton Attorney Urban Van Susteren for allowing the meeting to get out of his hands and into the hands of the two men.

A lot of speculation has been going on, predictions such as Catlin or Bubolz taking over the party. It is high time that such kind of talk is stopped, for neither man following their performance should be given a second thought. They both appear to be using the party for their own personal gain in one way or another instead of using it to further Republican objectives.

There is no question but what Catlin has reason to battle with Bubolz, after all it was Bubolz who supported the Independent candidacy of Kenneth Priche, who defeated Catlin, who had won the party nomination.

While we hardly blame Catlin for feeling the way he did, the people proved by their voting that the majority did not care to have him return to Madison regardless of the fact that he had received the Republican endorsement.

So while we will agree that each have their reasons for personal difference, we will not excuse them for one minute for bringing it out in the open at a Republican meeting.

It is high time that others in the Republican organization come to the front and realize that these men have only further hindered the party in attempting to further their own personal gain.

Appeal for Distressed Irish

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Dec. 6, 1879.

The fireless, foodless thousands of the counties of Sligo, Roscommon, Mayo, Leitrim, Galway and a part of the counties of Cork, Kerry, Tipperary, Antrim and Tyrone in Ireland must have assistance.

Britain will not hasten to relieve their wants nor will she address their wrongs.

Wisconsin is able to furnish the means to enable 25,000 of that population to get away from the British tyranny, and if the Irish of this state take steps in that direction, they will be aided by all lovers of liberty and humanity.

Meet Mr. Democrat Of State Legislature

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The man who will be "Mr. Democrat" in the new session of the state legislature starting in January is an even-tempered Racine county state senator who has spent his adult life-time in a agricultural affairs, 38-year-old Lynn Stalbaum.

Stalbaum

It is one of the benefits of abrupt prosperity of a party that when it comes into power men acquire seniority and rank quickly. Under ordinary circumstances, Stalbaum in his second term would occupy a back row in legislative deliberation. But in point of fact he will be one of the important leaders of the new Democratic state administration now preparing to take over in the statehouse.

Others will have the titles. But Stalbaum will have the responsibility, and more important, the confidence of his colleagues who will commit to him that responsibility. He will be the chief Democratic spokesman on the legislative joint finance committee, in a year when the issues of finance and revenues will dominate all others and to a considerable degree influence the decision on most other legislation.

THE SITUATION

Normally Stalbaum as the Democrats' chief voice on financial matters in the legislature would be the chairman of the potent joint finance committee. But through an accident of constitutional mechanics — not all senators were up before the voters this year — the Republicans maintain a majority in the state senate and thus Stalbaum will be deprived of the center chair.

Upon his shoulders, nevertheless, will rest the responsibility for piloting the Nelson administration program, including some of the novel financial and managerial reforms the new governor will submit to the legislature, and the delicate and infinitely difficult job of balancing the state budget. It can scarcely be expected that the Republican majority members of the committee will be anxious to extricate the rival party from the enormous difficulties that face it.

Stalbaum starts the most important phase of his short career with some useful equipment. He is deliberate and studious. He has avoided the more ferocious partisanship of some of his Democratic colleagues that would be an impediment in his forthcoming work. In fact, there is perhaps no Democratic senator returning to legislative halls who has a greater respect and affection among his Republican rivals.

Like all young Democrats now tasting the sweet fruits of their victory, Stalbaum has some political ambitions and he cheerfully acknowledges them. But like the sensible man he is, he has not narrowed them to particular offices and time. That way, he tells friends, he is not likely to be disappointed by the unpredictable twisting and turning of state politics.

THE MAN

A tendency to baldness makes Stalbaum appear older than he is, which is an advantage of sorts in political leadership. The fact that he volunteered for the finance committee, during the years of Republican hegemony, tells something of his seriousness of purpose. Service there is hard, and has few rewards. Voters don't distinguish between the toilers and the shirkers in their legislatures.

Stalbaum has had some connection with agriculture since he quit school at the age of 16 to take a job with the U. S. department of agriculture in his home county. He served with the U. S. navy during World War II and for the last half a dozen years has been the administrative officer of the Racine Milk Producers Co-operative association.

He comes from a pioneer German family which homesteaded in his county nearly a century ago, and has a wife who has even earlier Wisconsin origins.

Organization of the legislature is always a gamble for the party that has won a majority vote and stands responsible in the eyes of the electorate for its conduct and its product. Democrats are entitled to congratulate themselves that they have one experienced and solid hand for the crucial finance assignment during their first state administration in a quarter of a century. That Gov.-Elect Nelson is aware of his good fortune was shown by his insistence that Stalbaum flank him when he started the long and arduous job of appropriations reviews at the statehouse last week.

Rep. Tewes Felicitated His Opponent

Editor, Post-Crescent:

A recent editorial in your paper charging Republicans with unsportsmanlike conduct after the election contained a mis-statement which I believe you will want to correct. You said Congressman Don Tewes failed to congratulate his opponent. The enclosed copy of the telegram which Congressman Tewes sent when the election outcome was apparent indicates that he congratulated his opponent promptly and courteously.

The mistaken report is ironical because even Congressman Tewes' opponents have commended his political code of conduct. He based his campaign on national issues without a single personal reference to his opponent, and without replying to attacks made upon him. He lived up to that high standard on election night as well.

Ideal Photo Plans to Build

Will Construct, Move Into Store at 222 E. College Ave.

The Ideal Photo shop, now located at 208 E. College avenue, is planning to construct a new building for its operations at 222 E. College avenue.

Modern Dry Cleaners, now at the site, will go out of business. It has been operated as a pickup station for Johnson Cleaners for several years. Mrs. Arlene Riehl, who operates the postal substation in the cleaning building, said plans for future operation of the substation are not settled.

The photo shop plans to raze the cleaner's present building and rebuild a 2-story plus basement structure on the site. Demolition operations will begin about the first of the year, construction is expected to begin about Jan. 15 and the new building is expected to be completed about three months later.

The building will be 22 feet by 120 feet and the first floor will be used for camera, photographic equipment and greeting card sales area. The basement will be utilized for storage at first, but can be turned into a sales floor in the future.

The second floor will be used for rental office space. According to the architects, the new building will be air conditioned and will utilize indirect as well as concealed lighting. The entrance will be of ceramic tile floors and will feature a small fountain.

Native field stone and local brick will be used for the interior and exterior.

Robert W. Weyenberg is owner of the business.

State to Open First 41 Interchange

The first new Highway 41 interchange will be opened to traffic late today or Wednesday at Highway 110 intersection, north of Lake Butte des Morts bridge.

L. W. Empey, district highway engineer, said there are indications two other interchanges, one at Highway 21, south of the bridge, and one at Highway 10 (Appleton's Wisconsin avenue), will open in the next 10 days.

The Highway 110 interchange has only part of the ramps paved and traffic will be moving mostly on gravel base, Empey reported. Calcium chloride will be used throughout the winter for snow and ice control on the gravel base.

The 110 interchange cost $406,340 by bid taken Jan. 29 and was scheduled for completion sometime next year. The timetable for Highway 41 4-laning is about a year ahead of original schedule throughout, Empey has said.

CHILDREN OF THE BIBLE by Patrick and Garrison

ABISHAG

"So they sought for a fair damsel throughout all the coasts of Israel, and found Abishag, a Shunammite . . ."

—1 Kings 1:3

A strange-sounding name to our ears—Abishag. But she was a young virgin of great beauty; in fact, an early version of our beauty contest winners. For she was selected from many girls of her age as the fairest damsel in the land.

King David's emissaries brought her back to the palace in hopes the sight of her would rekindle the old fires of love and passion that had once burned in the shepherd king.

Abishag spent her early childhood in the town of Shunem, not far from Mt. Tabor, the celebrated mountain of Galilee. No doubt it was the most memorable sight of her early years; for it stands in isolated grandeur in the middle of a large plain.

It is still regarded as a holy place, and was believed by some early writers to be the scene of Christ's Transfiguration.

In Abishag's day, the mountain and the plain around it were already a famous battleground; it was here that "Sisera, the captain of Jabin's army, with its chariots and its multitudes" had fought.

The Bible does not tell us exactly what effect Abishag had on David, although it says that she "cherished the king, and ministered to him."

But, although the old king did not take her as one of his wives in a literal sense, she was regarded as an official part of the royal household.

It was for this reason that, after David's death, when young Adonijah petitioned Saul for Abishag as his wife, he was charged with treason. According to the law, it was a serious matter for a subject to take something belonging to the Crown—even a beautiful young girl who deserved marriage and happiness.

Death was the penalty for Adonijah's request—probably because Bathsheba feared that Adonijah might still get the throne from her son, Solomon.

Abishag was an innocent, but legal, means of bringing about Adonijah's death.

Prange to Start More Razing Work Jan. 14

Plan to Tear Down Buildings On W. College

H. C. Prange company will begin demolition of some of its W. College avenue buildings Jan. 14.

The buildings are those between the main store at Appleton street and the S. S. Kresge company store, 110 W. College.

The work is part of construction of a multi-million-dollar, 6-story modern department store scheduled for completion by Prange in mid-1961.

When demolition of the three W. College buildings is complete, the schedule calls for construction of part of the new 6-story establishment.

When that part of the new store is done, demolition of the present main store will follow and the rest of the new store will be built.

Leslie Quasius, general contractor, Monday sought city council permission to use part of W. College during razing. Quasius said he will need a 13-foot-wide strip along the north side of the avenue, partly for an 8-foot-wide plank sidewalk around the work area. He estimated he will need the bypass walk between four and six months.

A high board fence will be erected so "sidewalk superintendents" will not clog pedestrian traffic. However, small viewing area may be constructed at one end of the temporary walk, he reported.

Block Midway Quasius also asked street and sanitation committee for permission to close Midway street, the block-long alley north of W. College between Appleton and Oneida streets.

Debris and later, excavated dirt, will be hauled from the work scene by way of Midway, he explained, and when store construction starts, it is ly-intended to build the alley overpass as part of first stage work.

Committeemen said they will recommend approval of the requests at the Wednesday council meeting.

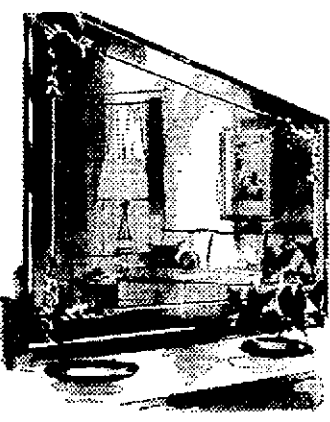

Work on the Prange plan started early in August with demolition of the former Wolley north of W. College better building, north of Midway street and fronting on Appleton street.

Steel has arrived and is being fitted in the hole, with the framework scheduled to rise above street level shortly.

Record Number of Students Enrolled in U. S. Colleges

Washington — The nation's colleges and universities enrolled a record 3,238,556 students at the start of this school year, the office of education has announced.

The figure is 190,139 or 6.2 per cent greater than the previous high enrollment chalked up in the fall of 1957. The office of education said this was the seventh consecutive year in which a new record was set.

The figures cover fulltime and parttime students at both junior and 4-year colleges. The survey covered the more than 1,500 institutions which give courses leading to a degree.

The number of students enrolled in college for the first time was 781,075, up 7 per cent from last year. Of the total number enrolled, 2,110,426 were men and 1,148,130 women.

Dwarf Idea Suggested for Holiday Shows or Parties

BY CAPPY DICK

Here's a plan for something to do in response to inquiries from boys and girls who want a good stunt they can use in their amateur shows or holiday parties. Astonish your audiences by showing them a comical dwarf!

Two persons are necessary. Place a table in front of a doorway. Over it spread a cloth that hangs to the floor.

One boy should go behind the table with his arms clamped into the legs of a pair of knickers, some golf stockings on his arms and shoes on his hands (Figure 1). He should rest his hands in the shoes on the table.

A second boy must get behind the first. This second boy must put his arms over the first boy's shoulders (Figure 2). Over the second boy's shoulders should be placed the boy with his arms clamped into the sleeves of a suit coat and the boy with his arms clamped into the coat should be buttoned down the front of the first boy. This dwarf will give the impression that the first boy is a second boy, the second boy is a third boy, and so on.

Place a cape, scarf or shawl over the second boy's head shown in Figure 3. The effect is to make the first boy look like a dwarf.

Council to Hear Plans For Pay, Job Revision

Carl Wettengel To Outline State Method on Dec. 17

City councilmen Dec. 17 will hear a proposed revision of the city employees' pay and job classification plans. Finance committee members Monday night decided to make plans for revision to the entire council to avoid as much tampering with the finished product as possible. Committee members said they believe the state bureau of personnel, named to make the revisions, would give the plans a fresh, unbiased and neutral look.

Carl K. Wettengel, director of the state bureau, outlined his department's method of arriving at revised codes. One committee member insisted the entire council hear Wettengel. As a result it was decided to schedule Wettengel's appearance at a committee of the whole meeting during the Dec. 17 council meeting. Wettengel said his department could start revision work about May or June and promise completion in August. He put the estimated cost at between $1,200 and $1,600. Some 438 city employees are involved. Only those hired by the boards of education and adult and vocational educa-

$1,230 Needed to Cover Spending Over Budgets

Transfer of $1,230.85 from one account to others to cover overspending in the 1958 budget was recommended by the finance committee Monday. The money will come from $1,400 remaining of the original $2,000 appropriation for a northside neighborhood fire station site. It will cover overspending of these amounts in these accounts: $850 in the mayor's office, due primarily to two mayors on the payroll in April as one took his annual vacation; $310.96 for Flag day, $34.33 for Memorial day, $32.72 for the board of appeals, $2.34 for the city picnic, and 50 cents for tax rebates.

Other Actions It was agreed to accept $10,000 and records from the Appleton Housing Authority, to function in practice for some time, but having legal troubles in disbanding. Some $3,500 is still held by the authority. Ross E. Williams, head of the authority, is scheduled to present his closing-out statements this week, City Clerk Broehm reported. It was recommended the city again retain Becher and Okada to audit city records next year for $1,200.

AAL to Open Several Parking Areas Dec. 15

The Aid Association for Lutherans will throw open the bulk of its downtown parking facilities to the late-in-the-day Christmas shopping public starting Monday, Dec. 15. Herbert Voecks, AAL vice president and secretary, told Mayor Mitchell today the parking facilities will be opened between 4 p.m. and midnight on weekdays and all day Saturday the week before Christmas. Parking will be free.

Only the lot at the northeast corner of Washington and Superior streets will not be opened, Voecks said.

The rest of the block, surrounded by Washington, Superior, Franklin and Appleton streets, will be open, with two entrances on Franklin street, and single ones on Washington and Appleton streets.

The AAL will insist that all cars be off the lots before midnight so spaces will be available for employees the next morning, Voecks said.

The offer is in response to an inquiry made by Mayor Mitchell.

The same day Their daughters-in-law, Mrs. John R. Kremer, Jr., and Mrs. Donald B. Kremer—the former in Van Nuys, Calif., and the latter in Winchester—gave birth to baby boys the same day.

There are two new tunes on the chart this week. "Philadelphia U. S. A." is a rousing newcomer by the Nu Tornadoes. A rock and roll number makes its debut in the eighth spot this week. It's "Whole Lotta Lovin'" by Fats Domino.

Richard Arlen, Star of many collegiate type movies 20 years ago, plays the role of a western hero in his newest film—the 250th of his career. He's critical of what he calls the "slob" type of younger movie star, saying that they should look like stars and avoid jeans, T-shirts and uncombed hair when in public.

Actor Richard Arlen Voices Some Sharp Jabs at Younger Star Crop

BY BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

Hollywood—(AP)—Richard Arlen, looking scarcely a day older than when he played for the Paramount variety, has some sharp words to say about today's young stars. They're slob.

They're pricing the movies out of business. Okay, so Dick has an affection for the days when he, Clara Bow, Gary Cooper, Jack Oake and others were making collegiate movies at Paramount. He's not the only one who esteems that era.

"In those days a movie star always looked like a movie star," Dick remarked. "When you're in public life, you should dress accordingly. You wouldn't expect the governor to go to work in a sweat shirt. Nor should movie stars."

"Yet I see these young kids come to the studio in pegged trousers or blue jeans and T-shirts. Their hair is uncombed and their faces are dirty. They're a mess."

Study in Contrasts
"At Christmas time, you go to a fine store in Beverly Hills and see stars like Irene Dunne and Joan Crawford shopping in beautiful clothes. But you see some of the younger names wearing ballet shoes, those tight tunic pants and a man's shirt and dragging a mink coat."

Of the prices that many stars are demanding for their services, Arlen said: "These figures of $750,000 for a picture are ridiculous," he said. "Many a producer can't hope to make a profit by the time he has paid the stars."

"The stars can ruin the picture business with their demands. When the business is in trouble, they should be cutting their prices, not asking older than when he played for the Paramount variety, has some sharp words to say about today's young stars. They're slob.

may, Mrs. Conte announced formation of a foundation for the preservation of Matinee Theater. Her goal: collection of $5 million to return the show to the air.

Raised $312,670

Her drive drew considerable comment from the press and $312,670 from citizens who were eager to see class programs return to the air day-time TV scene. But she gave up this week. Why?

"Because I found myself working day and night for the drive and various chairmen throughout the country were doing the same, but we could not succeed," she explained. "The reason was that we couldn't get our message across. We had done a wonderful job on direct mail appeal and door-to-door, but we were unable to buy commercial time to advertise on TV. NBC told us our copy was unacceptable."

So now she is returning all the money, according to her promise. She has calculated that the cost of so doing can amount to $9,000 in postage and handling.

It was considered foolhardy of her to challenge the whole system of television programming, but there are some who think it was pretty brave and admirable.

Mrs. Conte swung into action when NBC canceled Matinee Theater, a valiant effort to bring hour-long quality dramas in color to daytime TV. The network claimed it had lost millions on the series, which was sustained as a promotion for sales of color sets. Mrs. Conte's husband had emceed the show through its 2-year history.

Hiring Friend's Daughter as Secretary Not Good Idea

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: In June, the daughter of a close friend graduated from business school and needed a job. She can't spell, type or answer a phone properly. Her lunch period runs twice as long as anyone else's. I want to fire her and Ann Landers I hinted strongly that I might. Her father made it plain that he would be gravely hurt. We've been close friends for years. What shall I do? Please answer in the paper. The dumb cluck opens my personal mail. — SORRY BOSS

You've hired the daughter of a friend to do secretarial work, and she can't spell, type or answer the phone properly? She takes double lunch periods and opens your personal mail. You pay her a salary. And she's a dumb cluck?

There's an old department store adage: "Your first mark-down is the cheapest." I suggest you apply it — at once.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Two years ago this Christmas I became engaged to a boy I'd gone with all through school. The week after we sent out announcements he told me he'd gotten a girl in trouble and had to marry her.

I almost went out of my mind. It was months before I could go out of the house and face people. It took almost a year before I could speak his name without getting physically ill. There isn't enough ink in this pen to tell you what that experience did to me. I haven't been able to fall in love again but I've made a good adjustment and am dating some fine fellows.

Last week my former fiance phoned and asked me to meet him in the public library. He sounded troubled so I agreed. He told me he hates his wife and the baby means nothing to him. He says it may not be his. He wants to divorce her and marry me. He says life isn't worth living if he can't have me. I'm afraid he may commit suicide.

I would hate to be responsible for such a thing. I'm very confused. I loved him once but now I'm afraid to get involved again. Yet I can't be cruel. What shall I do? — LAURA

Man Should Indulge the Whims of Women When Buying Christmas Gifts

A woman is likely to exhibit extravagance at Christmas time. She may ask for jewelry, furs and perfume, items she normally considers out of reach. Maybe she's just testing.

Few men can understand that perfume, though expensive, is a necessary accessory to the ego of some women. Ditto for other gifts she craves that seem unimportant to the man.

If it makes Mom happy to have a special bottle of perfume, a fancy bejeweled compact that other ladies in the bridge set do not own, or a stocking made of solid gold mesh and Dad can afford it, why not?

Satisfy Whims

It should be fun for a man to indulge the whims of women if it fits his budget. He shouldn't buy just perfume, however. He must find out what type his little bundle of joy prefers.

If she's the type who wears glamorous theater suits, sophisticated cocktail dresses and elegant formal she may prefer florals — lily of the valley, lilac, jasmine. Heady, sultry oriental blends may be her dish of tea, also.

Outdoor Girl

Country girls who wear shaggy haired wools, kitten-soft cashmeres and suede jackets usually prefer woody, mossy types of scents or the pungent, spicy blends of fragrances.

If a man can't splurge on perfume, there are other fragrances available to satisfy her yen for a Christmas scent. Colognes and toilet waters are lighter substitutes.

There also are scented soaps, sachets and hand lotions to put in her stocking, and little gift sets containing scented items, such as one little replica of an old-fashioned spice rack containing cologne, soap, cream sachet.

This Delightful Santa Claus Is made of boxes and gay colored paper. He'll add a festive touch to any Christmas decorations. Place the figure under the tree, in a hallway or in the children's room.

Jolly Santa Claus Made of Boxes Adds Festive Touch

Many a dad has said on Christmas Eve, "Why do we have to wrap it up," referring to one of Junior's big bulky toys that would better be displayed in all its massiveness. But, no, after the poor man has assembled the great puzzling toy, then Mom expects further miracles: she's determined that the tree shall look chic with some handsomely wrapped packages under it, including that big one.

One way to solve that problem is to put the toys out to be displayed, wrapping only the smooth, smaller boxes, and then wrapping some EMPTY boxes.

A jolly Santa, for instance, may be made by wrapping four square boxes and stacking them one upon the other. This gives you that Christmas-box - look under the tree without straining yourself to wrap impossible packages.

Santa's head is the top box covered with pink paper. Cut features from colored paper and hold in place with double-faced tape.

His beard is an oval shaped piece of white paper with one edge cut into fringe and taped just under his mouth.

His hat is a tall green paper cone shape striped with red gift wrap tape. Santa when finished will stand about three feet high, a gay host under the tree, and fun for a child's room decoration later.

The second and third boxes are covered with red paper and a strip of black plastic around the bottom edge forms the belt. To make his boots cover a strip of gold tape down the center of one side to separate the legs.

Your Children's Feet...and Their Care by -

EARL D. MILLER

Heckert Shoe Co.

119 E. College Ave.

Those precious little feet of children: mothers so love to fondle! During the tender years, instead of a solid foot structure, the little feet of children are merely 82 bony masses which do not even appear united, but as the child grows, these little masses enlarge and assume proper shape, gradually meeting each other. Then they form the arches of the feet. It takes ten years before the general structure of the foot is completed — although certain details of the great heel bone are not perfected until after the twentieth year. Imagine it! Twenty years to grow a foot. No wonder it is important to take good care of them.

At Heckert Shoe Co., in our exclusive "children's shoe department" with our trained, qualified personnel, you can expect us to do our very best to provide your children with the best possible fit as well as the best possible shoes so as to justify your confidence in us.

Bobby Wanzer Fired by Royals

Tom Marshall
To Coach
Cellar Dwellers

Cincinnati — (P) — Bobby Wanzer, got his walking papers Monday as coach of the lackluster pro basketball Cincinnati Royals. He said, "I expected it."

"We were losing and there was nothing else that could be done. When it comes down to the final wire, you can't fire the ball players, so only one guy is expendable."

His successor is veteran Tom Marshall, 27-year-old Western Kentucky grad, and — in sports — one of the team's best pointmakers this season.

He inherits a team that has won only three of 18 games this season and is firmly in the Western division cellar of the National Basketball association.

Wanzer, 35, is a former Seton Hall whiz who graduated to eight years of stardom with the Royals at Rochester, N. Y. He was in his fourth year as coach.

Andy Bathgate Holds Scoring Lead in NHL

Montreal — (P) — Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers refuses to get "all shook up" in the National Hockey league scoring race with four Montreal Canadiens pressing him for the lead.

The hotshot Ranger forward maintained his scoring lead with 32 points, three ahead of Canadian Bernie Geoffrion, who heads a Montreal quartet in places two through five.

Bathgate scored three last week and added an assist to keep him ahead of Geoffrion, who tallied four goals and four assists. Jean Beliveau and Dickie Moore, with 26 each, and Maurice Richard, with 25, round out the Canadiens quartet.

Hickey's 1st Warrior '5' Plays UW Tonight

Expect Both Clubs

Faster Attacks

Madison — (P) — Wisconsin and Marquette, after a 5-year lapse, tonight renew an old basketball rivalry when they open their seasons here.

The game will be the first for Warrior coach Eddie Hickey, who took that job after resigning early this year as coach at St. Louis university. He has installed the fast break, a marked departure from the deliberate style of play of Marquette in recent years.

Speeds Up Game

Harold "Bud" Foster, who begins his twenty-fifth year as head coach of Wisconsin, also is working on a faster floor game. The Badgers with a zone defense and deliberate offense, had a poor, 8-14 season last year after winning the first four of five games.

Wisconsin slipped badly after the fast start and there were calls by some alumni for Foster's resignation but

Major League Baseball Players In All-Out Drive for Salary Hikes

Braves Draft Yankees' Pisoni; Tigers Obtain Earl Hersh From Milwaukee

BY JOE REICHLER

Washington — (P) — Major league baseball players took the initiative today in an all-out drive for increased salaries. They asked a share of the club owners' total receipts.

The players' league representatives, Robin Roberts of Philadelphia and Eddie Yost of Washington, arranged to confer with the owners. They planned to report back to 16 team representatives later.

Minors' Turn

In a meeting Monday, the players' representatives voted unanimously to ask for 25 per cent of the 15 clubs' overall annual income. This went far beyond their original demands for a cut of the regular season radio and television money.

Meanwhile, it was the minor leagues' turn, at their annual convention, to draft baseball players from their own ranks today after the majors had picked off the cream of the crop, selecting 12 men for a total of $300,000.

Fox Cities', Green Bay's 3-I Futures Hang in Balance

Winona's Status Is Key Issue

Post-Crescent News Service

Washington — The possibility that the Fox Cities and Green Bay will have organized baseball next summer appeared remote today following a surprising turn of events at the combined minor-major league meetings here.

Green Bay Bluejay Vice President Bill Clancy, attending the Washington meetings, reported today that the bid of Green Bay and Fox Cities representatives to obtain the Class D Midwest league franchise of Clinton and Dubuque, Ia. for Three-I league operation next season was blocked outright Monday night by officials of the Midwest circuit.

Banked on 2 Cities

The Fox Cities representatives (President Ray McClone and Business Manager Bob Willis) and those of Green Bay had banked heavily on acquiring the Clinton and Dubuque franchises in order to provide a compact league from the geographical standpoint.

Clancy said that the only alternative now, so far as Green Bay and the Fox Cities are concerned, is to obtain assurance from Winona, Minn., executives that they will have a major league working agreement and will be able to operate next season.

Should Winona provide this assurance, the league could operate economically next season with the same alignment as in 1958 — namely, Green Bay, Fox Cities, Winona, Cedar Rapids, Davenport, and Burlington.

"You can say that the status of the 3-I league so far as Green Bay and the Fox Cities are concerned, is entirely in the hands of Winona," Clancy said.

The "fly in the ointment," regarding this plan is the fact that the Class C Northern league, also seeking to expand, has made a bid for the Winona franchise in order to increase its membership to 10 teams in 1959.

'Western' Influence

Another major obstacle in the path of continued organized ball in northeastern Wisconsin appears to be the increasing influence of Western league cities in their drive to gain 3-I membership.

Lincoln, Neb., Topeka, Kan., Sioux City, Ia., and Des Moines, Ia., all are represented at the Washington meetings and are seeking 3-I franchises.

The end result, according to speculation at Washington, might bring about a 3-I league realignment which would exclude Green Bay and the Fox Cities and include Lincoln.

Pressure Mounts for Release of Lewellen, McLean, AP Reports

Committee Said to Favor Change;
Coach's Chances Better Than Verne's

BY CHUCK CAPALDO

Green Bay — (P) — There is mounting pressure among members of the Green Bay Packers' executive committee for a new general manager, as well as a new coach. The Associated Press learned today.

'Better Chance'

But, another informed source who also declined to be identified, said McLean has a better chance of retaining his post than Lewellen. McLean is winding up his first season as field boss. Lewellen, a former Packer great, is in his fifth year as the club's first general manager.

Time-for-a-change sentiment has grown steadily since mid-season when it became obvious that the Packers might be headed for their worst campaign in 40 years.

The Packers own the sorriest record in the NFL, 1-8-1. Only two other Packer teams, the 1949 and 1953 clubs, have finished with poorer records.

Curly Lambeau's 1949 club posted a 2-10-0 record while Gene Ronzani was at the helm of the 1953 edition, which wound up with a 2-9-1 standard. Lambeau quit after the 1949 campaign to become coach of the Chicago Cardinals.

Ronzani resigned with two games left to play in 1953. "It's obvious we need a change," the committee member said. "I feel there is a good chance both Lewellen and McLean will be released. A number of members feel the same way. I doubt very much whether one man will be hired to handle both jobs. There's just too much work for one man."

There is no indication when an announcement will be made regarding the 1959 season, but it is unlikely anything will be done until after the season is over. The Packers still have two more games to play.

McLean's predecessor, Lisle "Liz" Blackburn, was given a pink slip last January while he was scouting the Senior Bowl game.

Central's Redmen lost their lone pre-conference start, 47-40 to Racine Horlick.

The only other winless FRVC club is Green Bay West, which bowed, 65-54, to Premontré.

North Wins Two

Co-favorites Oshkosh and Fond du Lac pretty well upheld the raters' high opinions of them. Oshkosh, the only unbeaten league team, whacked Madison East (last season's state champion), 63-47; and last night stopped Ripon, 73-49.

Fond du Lac came up with the second best pre-conference record. The Cardinals beat Kaukauna (65-57), Neenah (52-49) and Ripon (73-64), but lost to St. Mary Springs, 68-55.

Sheboygan North, making noises like a darkhorse, won two of three exhibitions. The Raiders whipped South Milwaukee (62-38) and Kaukauna (95-63) but fell to Two Rivers, 51-41.

Green Bay East, looking far stronger than pre-season predictions gave it credit for, split its two games. The Red Devils stopped Clintonville, 61-45, and gave powerful Kimberly a battle before succumbing, 63-58.

Manitowoc, which also has played 500 ball, served notice it will be tough, as per usual. The defending FRVC champs edged Menasha, 43-42, and were mipped by Two Rivers, 62-60.

The FRVC has won nine and lost eight in outside competition—its poorest showing in three seasons. Last year, the FRVC posted a 12-6 record and the season before 10-8.

To get Pisoni, who hit a good 313 at Denver, the Braves had to lose Earl Hersh, a first baseman - out.

Hawkeye Star Plans to Study For Law Career

Iowa City — (P) — Randy Duncan, Iowa's ace quarterback, says he won't decide until after his team plays California in the Rose bowl on New Year's day whether he will play pro football.

Duncan was drafted by the Green Bay Packers Monday at Philadelphia as their first choice in the National football league crop of youngsters.

However Duncan said Monday night he wants to become an attorney and Green Bay is the only pro football city without a law school. He added he intends to go after a law degree regardless of whether he plays pro ball.

Think It Through

He said he had thought he might be able to study law while playing with the pros but added, "Now that I'm drafted by Green Bay I'm going to have to think the whole thing through again. My mind is open on the subject."

Duncan declared he had no preconceived opinions as to what club he hoped he might play with. He said he will talk the situation over with his father and Coach Forest Evashevski, who "give pretty good advice."

Duncan said the Los Angeles Rams and the Packers had talked to him about a pro career. He led the Big Ten in offense this season with 1,706 yards in nine games. He completed 101 of 172 passes for 1,346 yards and 11 touchdowns.

Other draftees of the Packers were Alex Hawkins, a South Carolina halfback and Boyd Dowler, Colorado quarter-back and end. The Packers had surrendered their fourth pick to Cleveland as the price for getting veteran end Len Ford.

Hawkins stands 6-1 and weighs 190 pounds. Dowler, 6-5 and 214 pounds, is a sprinter who can kick, run and pass.

Beloit Bows, 65-58, To Gustavus Adolphus

St. Peter, Minn. — (P) — Beloit couldn't make up a 9-point halftime deficit Monday night and fell before Gustavus Adolphus' basketball team, 65-58, in the season opener for both schools. The Gusties led all the way.

Paul Youngdahl picked up 19 points for the winners. Craig Miller netted 15 for Beloit.

Bell Says Packers, 3 Others in Danger Of Losing Money

Commissioner Gets Confidence Vote After Fiery NFL Meeting

BY RALPH BERNSTEIN
Philadelphia — The National Football league is beginning to look more like it self again.

Recent league meetings have been so peaceful and full of brotherly love they appeared more like Quaker seminars.

But Monday the bubble burst. The NFL owners were acting like NFL owners.

Commissioner Bert Bell presided over the annual early draft session during which the clubs drafted 48 of the nation's top college football players.

Seclude Themselves
Then Bell and the owners secluded themselves in executive session. Apparently there were fireworks. Bell told the press: "I told them (the owners) to stop squabbling or they could have my job."

Bell attempted to smooth over the disclosure by describing it as a heart-to-heart confab with his bosses. He said he wasn't angry, didn't threaten anyone.

"I told them I didn't want to be a czar. I have always tried to run this league by getting to look more like it self again.

"I told them the individual bickering among owners, the squawking by coaches has got to stop. If it doesn't I'll have to run the league by the book instead of persuasion. If I can't run the league the way the book says, I will give up my contract."

Owners Retort
The owners retorted, so Bell reported, by giving the commissioner a unanimous vote of confidence and told him to operate by the book come what may.

The $50,000-a-year commissioner said he was annoyed by accusations made by owners against each other and against him. He intimated someone called him a stooge.

He said he was annoyed with coaches squawking about officials.

"If they don't stop, you can have my job," he said. "Football has been my life. If you won't let me run it according to the book, I'll step down. You run it."

Minimizes Piece
Then, after he had said his piece, Bell tried to minimize it. "Don't make a big thing of it, boys," he said to the press. It's not small when you offer to quit, he was told.

Bell went on to other things. He said the league faced a difficult future despite record-setting attendance each year.

"This is the best year in our history," he said, "yet four or five clubs are in danger of losing money." He declined to name the teams, but further questions indicated he referred to the Philadelphia Eagles, Pittsburgh Steelers, Chicago Cardinals and Green Bay Packers.

He said some plan must be designed to help the clubs who might at sometime get in trouble financially.

"Some of these teams don't have the big season ticket sales of the richer clubs. Several Sundays of bad weather and they can lose $100,000 to $150,000 for a season. They might not survive. We have to take into consideration that the lower teams are battling for life," he said.

More Equal Share
The commissioner suggested one way to help was a more equal share of television money. As things are now, the more successful teams share in the major portion of the TV dough. The lower clubs, the ones least desired by TV sponsors, get less.

Bell also suggested to the owners they get together and discuss ways to cut costs of scouting, training camps, travel, hotel bills and office routine. They're getting out of hand, he said.

He concluded by declaring, "We're a 12-team league and we have to remain at least that. We can't play with six or seven. We need each other. The rich must help the poor, or we'll have nothing eventually."

All these problems and more are on the docket for the league's annual meeting here starting Jan. 20. Peace was wonderful while it lasted.

Fox Cities' 3-1 Future Looks Dim

Topeka, Sioux City, Des Moines, Davenport and Cedar Rapids — with Burlington also bowing out next year.

Des Moines, which earlier had indicated it would not be interested in the 3-1, has reversed its stand after getting favorable reaction from its citizens as to staying in organized ball.

If Winona does not return, Des Moines consequently would be the logical replacement for the Minnesota city, is the feeling here.

Two meetings were scheduled for this afternoon. Out of them should come the answer as to the future status of Green Bay and the Fox Cities.

The first meeting will be among 3-1 officials to determine whether it will be feasible for Winona to operate. The second meeting will be with Northern league officials to report whether Winona would be interested in joining the Northern or remaining in the 3-1.

The baseball future of the Fox Cities and Green Bay hangs in the balance.

Both the Fox Cities and Green Bay strenuously opposed the admission of the Western league clubs (Topeka, Des Moines, etc.) during the recent 3-1 meeting in Chicago. Their opposition was based on the long distance (up to 700 or 800 miles) required for traveling.

McClone reported at the Fox Cities' recent stockholders' meeting that he had informed 3-1 officials in Chicago that the Foxes wouldn't be interested in continuing in the league if the Western loop clubs were admitted.

Winona, now the key city of the hold-over alignment, had a working agreement with Kansas City last year, but the A's pulled out, reportedly because of the inadequate facilities there. The Phillies are rumored to be a possible affiliate for Winona — but today was theoretically the deadline for the Minnesota city to come up with the agreement.

Mercury, Turk Hi-Ys Triumph

The Mercury and Turk Hi-Y basketball teams won YMCA Junior High boys' league cage games over the weekend.

Mercury trounced Berggren's 62-39, as Halverson hit 24 points and Nordgren 20. Turk dumped Fond's Sports, 63-17, with D. Schroeder whipping in 27 for the victors.

Army's Harry Walters To Play in N-S Tilt

Miami, Fla. — Fullback Harry Walters of Army has accepted an invitation to play in the North-South Shrine football game here Dec. 27.

Walters will join a team made of halfback Pete Hawkins of the North squad. He will alternate at fullback with Jack DeLoach of Illinois who previously agreed to play for the South in the annual charity game.

Starr Called Pass on 12 Straight Third Downs

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay—Tuesday Quarterback No. 10: Unless your team is a powerhouse, third-down situations can be awfully critical. . . that's what third downs are to the Packers, obviously.

Quarterback Bart Starr was confronted with 12 third-down situations in Detroit Thanks-giving day. He passed or attempted to pass on each third down — chiefly because of needed "long" yardage — from 18 yards on down to four.

For the 12 third-down plays, Starr completed five passes for 88 yards, ran three times for a minus one yard, and had four passes incomplete.

The key to the Packers' troubles seemed to take place in the fourth quarter. There were three third-down plays in that period and the score was only 17-14. The Packers couldn't protect Starr, who was thrown for 10 yards of losses in his first two third-downs and then barely got off a pass to McGee.

St. Norbert '5' Wins, 106-87, Over Oshkosh

Green Bay—St. Norbert, playing its first game under basketball coach Romie Kosnar, swept past Oshkosh State, 106-87, Monday night in a meeting that opened the season for both schools.

The Titans were never able to threaten the Green Knights who were in front, 49-41, at intermission and held on to a comfortable lead through the second half.

Gary Herold and Kimberly's Jerry Lamers tossed in 28 points each for the Knights, while Jim Lettenberger scored 21 for Oshkosh.

The game was the first played in the new Brown County Veterans Memorial arena.

UW's Van Dyke Expects 1959 Badger '11' to Plunge

Watertown — Vern Van Dyke, assistant football coach at Wisconsin, expects Badger stock to plunge next season from the lofty position reached this year with a 7-1-1 record.

Van Dyke said he would be "very satisfied" if Wisconsin comes up with a 4-5 or 5-4 record in 1959. He made the comment while speaking at a sports night program here Monday.

Offers No Help
Dyke noted that only a few members of the current squad will graduate, but said the biggest trouble spot will be the lack of a break away half back. The Badgers overcame a similar shortage in the past season.

The current freshman squad offers no help, the coach said.

Van Dyke also said he expects that the National Collegiate Athletic association will adopt within a few years the grant in aid program extended to athletes by the Big Ten.

He described the Western conference system as a pilot program.

Big Ten schools are allowed to offer scholarships to applicants in the top one-third of their high school class, and may give additional financial help if the applicants are able to prove need.

College Cage Season Opens

West Virginia, Kentucky and Cincinnati Keep Winning Ways

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was the start of a brand new basketball season, but somehow the names seemed familiar.

When major college courts teams, restricted by NCAA rules to a Dec. 1 start, charged into action Monday night, two All-America players of the 1957-58 season, Cincinnati's husky Oscar Robertson and tiny Don Hennon of Pitt, again were listed among the leading sharpshooters. And who were the winners?

Why, West Virginia, the nation's No. 1 team last season in the Associated Press ranking poll; Kentucky, the NCAA champion; Cincinnati and Kansas State, rated No. 2 and 3 last spring; and just about all the other perennial winners.

37th Straight
West Virginia, winning its thirty-seventh consecutive game in Southern conference competition, lost an early lead against Furman and trailed by a point or two through most of the second half. It wasn't until three Furman players had been benched after accumulating four personal fouls that West Virginia drew away to win, 76-67.

Robertson, 15 pounds heavier than last season and playing a new role as pivot man, paced Cincinnati to a 93-64 victory over Indiana State. He needed less than a half to rack up the 16 points he needed to pass the 1,000 mark.

Tall Bob Boozer of Kansas State scored 45 points for a school record as the Wildcats downed Purdue, 96-83, in a rough game in which the lead changed hands 18 times during the first half. Boozer counted 23 points from the foul line.

Kansas, with Ron Loneski taking up some of the slack caused by the departure of Wilt Chamberlain, whipped Rice 65-49; Nebraska routed Northwest Missouri State, 85-44; and Iowa State beat South Dakota, 63-56.

Hennon, Pitt's 5-8½ sharpshooter, tossed in 28 points while his team was losing to Michigan, 75-55. Kentucky, minus most of the stars of its championship team, won its 31st straight opening game, beating Florida State, 91-68.

Indiana's 1958 Big Ten champions, another team that has lost heavily, called on sophomores to whip Drake, 68-59.

North Carolina State, usually a Southern power, opened with a 70-54 victory over Penn State.

Northwestern trounced Western Michigan, 102-60, and Iowa defeated Colorado, 69-46. The winners played on their home courts.

Wilson Eison was high for Purdue with 19 points and Bill Greve and Bill Merriweather each added 17.

Ruklick Hits 28

Joe Ruklick, a 6-9 hook shot artist, tossed in 28 points towards the Northwestern cause. Veterans Phil Warren and Nick Mantis had 14 and 13, respectively, as Coach Bill Rohr cleared the bench and substituted freely.

Indiana hit at a .438 clip from the field and employed a balanced attack in jarring Drake. The Hoosiers were led by Frank Radovich who dumped in 16 points.

Iowa's veteran lineup presented 24-year-old head Coach Sharm Scheuerman with an easy victory. The Hawks raced to a 39-21 halftime lead and then built a 25-point edge late in the contest. Dave Gunther was tops for the Hawkeyes with 15 points and Clarence Wordlaw added 14.

John Tidwell, a 6-3 sophomore, provided Michigan with unexpected scoring punch as he whipped in 22 points. Three other Wolverines scored in double figures.

Two more Big Ten teams open tonight. Illinois is host to Butler and Wisconsin entertains rival Marquette.

His boxing comeback may have opened and closed in one night.

Soundly Beaten

The New Yorker, who was at one time the top challenger, was soundly beaten Monday night by Larry Zernitz, a plodding prospect from Springfield, Mass., in a 10-rounder at St. Nicholas arena. The verdict was split, but ringside critics agreed with the majority of officials that Zernitz, in scoring his sixth straight victory had won by a big margin.

It was a little over five years ago when Lasterza was stopped in the eleventh round by Marciano, then the champion at Yankee Stadium. Zernitz was his sixth opponent since then and his first in 14 months.

LSU '11' Wins Mythical U. S. Football Crown

Finishes First in Final AP Poll; Wisconsin Seventh

By The Associated Press
Louisiana State, the nation's only unbeaten-united team, ran up an overwhelming plurality in the final Associated Press college football poll of 1958 to win its first mythical national championship.

The Bayou Tigers, titans of the Southeastern conference, collected 139 first-place votes from among the participating 212 sports writers and broadcasters.

Iowa finished second, followed by Army, Auburn, Oklahoma and the Air Force academy.

Second AP Trophy
Louisiana State will receive the second Associated Press national football championship trophy. Auburn won the first last year.

LSU rolled over 10 opponents, opening with a 26-6 victory over Rice Sept. 20 and closing with a 62-0 annihilation of Tulane Nov. 22. The Tigers had only two close calls — beating Florida, 10-7, and Mississippi State, 7-6. They scored 275 points to their opponents' 53.

In the national balloting, LSU collected 1,904 points on the usual basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc. Iowa had 1,459, Army 1,429, Auburn 1,396, Oklahoma 1,200 and the Air Force Academy 800.

Iowa, which will play California in the Rose bowl, replaced Auburn, which had held second in last week's poll. Auburn squeezed past Alabama, 14-8, in its season finale last Saturday.

Army moved up a couple of notches on the strength of its 22-6 victory over Navy. The Cadets' record was marred only by a tie with Pittsburgh. Oklahoma dropped two rungs. The Air Force climbed up from eighth after downing Colorado, 20-14.

The first 10 was rounded out by Wisconsin, Ohio State, Syracuse and Texas Christian in that order. TCU, upset by Southern Methodist, slipped from seventh place.

The top 10 teams with first-place votes in parentheses:
1. Louisiana State (139)
2. Iowa (121)
3. Army (113)
4. Auburn (9)
5. Oklahoma (10)
6. Air Force (12)
7. Wisconsin (13)
8. Ohio State (3)
9. Syracuse (1)
10. Texas Christian (1)

Second 10: Mississippi (2) 303, Clemson (1) 246, Purdue 196, Florida 134, South Carolina 101, California 78, Notre Dame (1) 61, Southern Methodist 52, Oklahoma State 49, Rutgers (1) 46.

Ellie Walker Slams 210-522
Little Chute — Ellie Walker blasted a 210 singleton and 522 series for the high honors in the Ladies league at the Recreation alleys.

The Little Chute Five to $1 Store is in first place with a two and a half game lead over the Recreation team. Harry's Bar is third, a game out of second.

Other high scores included Joan Johnson, 509; Betty Brys, 199-515; Doris Driessen, 190-513 and Ethel Van Nuland, 502.

Stevens Point State Beats Milton, 90-79
Milton — Stevens Point State pulled away midway in the final period after the lead changed hands 12 times Monday night in defeating Milton college 90-79 in a non-conference basketball game.

Milton led at halftime 44-43. La Vern Luebster of Stevens Point topped the scoring with 27 points.

The Pointers now have two victories and one loss in non-conference play.

South '11' Signs 2 Rice Players

Montgomery, Ala. — Rebel coaches have signed Rice tackle J. D. Smith and end Gene Jones for the annual Blue-Gray College All-Star football classic Dec. 27.

Smith and Jones were the first replacements signed to fill vacancies created when Hardin-Simmons accepted a bid to play in the Sun bowl and Florida was invited to the Gator bowl.

This meant a Rebel loss of four players and Hardin-Simmons Coach Sammy Baugh for the game.

Hackworthy, Ramsey Named Vike Captains

and teacher," Heselton concluded.

If Schwendler letters in wrestling and track this season, as he's certain to do barring an unforeseen development, he'll be the first 9-letter-winning Viking in several years.

Praises Mulford
Heselton described Mulford as "one of the greatest all-around men I've ever coached and one of the top co-captains we've ever had."

He praised the 5-11, 175-pound left half for maintaining a fine attitude despite the fact that Lawrence's switch from the single wing to the multiple offense this year hurt his chances for individual glory.

As the ground-eating tailback on the Vike single wing, Mulford finished fourth in the MC scoring race with 48 points as a junior in 1957. His biggest days during the past fall were when the Vikes concentrated on the single wing attack.

Both-Ways Star
Mulford was another both-ways performer and did a good job in the defensive secondary.

Hackworthy has made only two bad passes from center in two seasons, Heselton observed. A great offensive player who blocked for keeps, Hackworthy glowed as a defensive linebacker during a limited opportunity at that spot.

"He'll be a 60-minute man next year," Heselton predicted.

Ramsey, another battler, was crowded out of a position by sophomore quarterback Jim Schulze, an all-stater as a prep. "But he never gave up and made us make a place for him," Bernie observed.

His coach described Ramsey, slight at just 5-9 and 165 pounds, as one of the greatest defensive backs in the conference. Despite his slight build, the hustling Ramsey was one of his club's top blockers, playing the key blocking back position in the single wing.

Tough Schedule
In discussing his club's 1-7 season, Heselton said that the Vikes' tough early-season schedule, (meeting four of the MC's toughest clubs in the first four games) really hurt. "And," he continued, "11 players that we counted upon for this season didn't return to the squad."

He said that the 1959 schedule treats the Vikings considerably better with the rougher games coming late in the season.

The inspirational Heselton said that only four regulars (Schwendler, Mulford, Jim Reiskyl and Bill Weber) will be lost by graduation and he called upon all the returning lettermen and freshmen to come back next fall.

Braves Seeking McMillan?

Washington — The Cincinnati Reds appear to be in the midst of a series of trade negotiations involving Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Philadelphia and Milwaukee.

The St. Louis Cardinals also were in there pitching, hoping to improve their weak attack.

Gabe Paul, Cincinnati general manager, huddled for several hours Monday night with his new manager, Mayo Smith, and Joe Brown, Pittsburgh general manager.

It was reliably reported that the Pirates had offered Frank Thomas, their power hitting infielder-outfielder and catcher Hank Foiles for left-handed pitcher Joe Nuxhall, catcher Ed Bailey and third baseman Don Hoak.

Want Groat
One version had it that the Reds also were interested in adding shortstop Roy McMillan to the package if they could snatch Dick Groat, the talented shortstop, from the Pirates.

The Braves reportedly offered Johnny Logan to Cincinnati for McMillan in an exchange of shortstops.

"There's nothing to that," Redleg spokesman said. "Now, if the Braves would throw in a pitcher, they've got a deal."

There was no comment from the Milwaukee party.

Smith acknowledged that several clubs had made inquiries about Johnny Temple, his fine second baseman.

Philadelphia was one of the clubs interested in Temple.

With Solly Hemus gone to manage St. Louis, the Phils are hurting around second.

They have offered pitching to land Temple.

Need Replacement
Milwaukee also is anxious to find a replacement for "Red" Schoendienst who is hospitalized with tuberculosis. Temple would be their first choice.

Second base seems to be the focal point of the trading talk.

The Giants have made strong overtures to the Cardinals for Don Blasingame. They are willing to give up shortstop Daryl Spencer and one of their three young outfielders—Bill White, Willie Kirkland, or Leon Wagner.

Surplus Talent
The Giants have surplus talent because of the return from service of White and Jackie Brandt. Thus, they have made a proposition to the Phils for two of their strong-armed pitchers, right-hander Jack Sanford and Jack Meyer. Manager Billy Rigney declined to say who he was offering, but acknowledged interest in both men.

The American league market was stalled.

Boston had hoped to make a deal with Washington, but it fell through at the last minute.

Calvin Griffith, Washington president, said negotiations with the New York Yankees had hit a snag "because the Yankees haven't offered enough."

231-583 Lead K of C League

Kaukauna — Glen Lappen slammed a 231 singleton and a 583 series to take individual honors in the Knights of Columbus Bowling league at S and B alleys.

Van Abel's swept three games to move into a first place tie with Schmidt Oil, both with records of 26 wins and 10 defeats. Norb Hennes and Haen Insurance are tied for second with 24 wins and 12 setbacks.

Republican Party Needs Rallying Point to Gain Victory in 1960

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
New York — The problem which faces the Republican party is not unity but what to unite about.

In a word, the party has to stand for something specific, understandable and sufficiently noble to move men and women to sacrifice their time and energy in what appears to them a great cause.

If politics only means getting jobs, one party is as good as another, depending upon the locality.

The last election does not help one reach any conclusions about the Republican party. Those who were defeated belonged to all points of view. Charles Potter of Michigan, an opportunist with modernist tendencies, was defeated as was John W. Bricker, a conservative with idealistic overtones. George W. Malone, a conservative, was defeated and Edward J. Thye, a liberal, was also defeated.

On the other hand, Barry Goldwater, the most consistent and philosophic conservative in the Senate was re-elected, as was William Langer, who tends to be socialist.

GOP Confusion
There is no telling from any of this what the Republican voter believes or wants. There is no telling whether there actually is a republican party in terms of ideas. This weakness of the party neither President Eisenhower nor Vice President Nixon has met in a convincing manner as the votes in the last election proved. On the other hand, William Knowland in California, John W. Bricker of Ohio and Barry Goldwater of Arizona stood on practically the same platform. Knowland and Bricker were defeated; Goldwater was elected.

While it is impossible to estimate the votes of the American people on the basis of ideas alone, it is possible to say that no such compulsive, sonal, like a bathing beauty contest, and had nothing to do with the principles before the American people.

Four Women Get Divorces; Cite Cruelty

Four women have been granted absolute divorces in municipal court on their grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Mrs. Allen Fenske, 29, 1729 W. Rogers street, was divorced from Norman Fenske, 34, 1516 W. Melvin street. Custody of two children was given jointly to both parents, with temporary custody to Mrs. Fenske. Fenske was ordered to pay $28.50 weekly support. The couple married Aug. 30, 1947, in West Bloomfield.

Mrs. Lola Richmond, 33, Appleton, was divorced from Archie E. Richmond, 30, Center Valley. Custody of one child was given Mrs. Richmond and Richmond was ordered to pay $50 monthly support until the child is 18. The couple was married in Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Mrs. Josephine R. Flieth, 41, 115 W. North street, was divorced from Raymond H. Flieth, 51, 303 Gruenwald street, Neenah. Custody of three children was given Mrs. Flieth and Flieth was ordered to turn his check over to the welfare department for support payments. The couple was married Oct. 28, 1943. The present divorce was the third such action begun.

Mrs. Thelma Guyette, 33, 121 N. Meade street, was divorced from Orville Guyette, 33, 542 N. Clark street. Custody of five children was given Mrs. Guyette and Guyette was ordered to pay $10 weekly alimony and $35 weekly support. The couple was married Sept. 2, 1944, in Iowa.

It is not likely that the Republicans will have, in 1960, such a personality as President Eisenhower to be their candidate. They will have to mean something in that year. They will need a philosophy of action. They will need a purpose. They will need a rallying cry. Without them, they will have no appeal to those who do not choose to vote for the Democrats.

Neenah Church Raises $9,979 For Aged Home

Lutheran Drive
Seeks Funds for Waupaca Facility

Waupaca — Neenah volunteer workers from Our Savior Lutheran church collected $9,979, according to Dr. G. W. Peterson, chairman of the Neenah drive for funds to erect a new Bethany Home for the Aged at Waupaca.

Under the general leadership of G. E. Mortensen, Neenah, the campaign has reached the halfway mark of $66,000 on the way to a $135,000 goal.

The total figure represents 10 per cent of construction costs and furnishings for the new 85-bed home planned for erection on the present Bethany grounds on Shadow lake.

Efforts are being made to complete Waupaca drives by Dec. 9 which is the final report meeting for Trinity Lutheran church and business divisions.

In addition to Waupaca and Neenah, drives are under way in other area Lutheran church parishes.

Vice chairmen of the Neenah campaign are Harold Graverson and Paul Groth. Team captains heading 5-man units are Philip Carlson, Alfred Bigalke, Eugene Lak, Harvey Pedersen, Gale Woelfler, Paul Kruger, Wallace Pearson, Stanley Renken, Robert Smart and Richard Lift.

Board Hires Chicago Architectural Firm For Jr. High School

Perkins and Will Company Designed
Taft, Wilson, Hoover, Neenah Gymnasium

Neenah — Board of education members Monday awarded the contract for designing the new junior high school to the architectural firm of Perkins and Will, Chicago.

The Chicago firm designed the Hoover, Wilson and Taft schools and the Neenah High school gymnasium and the Marathon division general headquarters here.

It is hoped plans will be completed by early spring since contractors are looking for construction jobs, it was reported.

A representative of the architectural firm will meet with junior high school faculty members Dec. 10 to obtain their ideas on needs in the new junior high school.

The site has not been selected, Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennes reported to the board. Several possible locations are being considered.

Board members said they wanted a sound, economical school.

Arthur Plummer of the board reported on his interview with Lester Nelson, assistant vice president of the Ford Foundation's Fund for Advancement of Education, pointing out the fund provides money for pioneering type programs in education and for unusual approaches to school problems.

Democrats to Meet

Oshkosh — The Winnebago County Democratic party will name a nominating committee to choose its slate of officers at its meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Athearn hotel.

False Alarm

Menasha — A broken pipe on a sprinkler system caused a false alarm at the Menasha Wooden Ware corporation, 430 River street at 10 a.m. today. Two fire trucks were sent to the plant.

Petitions Urging Passage of an ordinance prohibit the sale of beer to persons under 21 years of age were turned in Monday night by David Martin, left, and Miss Lorraine Dennhardt, right, to brigade coordinator Jack Casper, center, who has been serving as chairman for the voluntary group opposing a teenage beer bar within the city.

Would Add Fire Escape

Board Seeks to Bring Kimberly School Up to Safety Standards

Neenah — Steps are being taken to bring the Kimberly Junior High school into compliance with safety standards of the state department of public instruction and the state industrial commission. School board members were advised Monday.

Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennes and Earl Brien, supervisor of buildings and grounds for the public schools, reported on a meeting with the state deputy building inspector and of forthcoming meetings with officials of the state department of public instruction and the state industrial commission at Madison.

The state deputy building inspector recommended improvements which he estimated would cost about $7,500. The board will have to go to the council for this money since it is not in the budget.

One recommendation is addition of a fire escape to the south end of the building, which would extend toward S. Commercial street. A store room and darkroom on the second floor would have to be taken out to provide for this fire escape, cost of which was estimated at about $2,500.

Isolate Basement

The basement stairs would be closed off with masonry and a 1-hour fire door to isolate that area. The boiler room ceiling and the fan room ceiling also would be fireproofed.

Brien also reported there had been five breakins at schools since the semester began, two at Lincoln school and one each at the high school, Wilson school and McKinley school. Money and equipment were taken.

Board members also learned the Taft school construction fund was being closed out with a balance of about $1,500 and that the Hoover school addition would have a sizeable balance left afterers who didn't receive their payment of outstanding bills.

Supt. Mennes was instructed to contact city officials for information about a new appraisal of school buildings, possibly on a combination appraisal with city buildings. The firm which handled the school appraisals wrote that it had dropped the city from its service since no physical

Petitions Backing Age Limit on Beer Sales Collected

Neenah — Petitions urging a 21-year-old minimum limit for the purchase of beer in Neenah will be turned over to city officials this afternoon.

Jack Casper, chairman of the voluntary committee circulating the petitions, said today.

The number of signers "exceeded our expectations — and looks real good," he indicated. The petitions are being checked for duplication and for tabulation of the number of signers by wards.

Some of the petitions were circulated on a ward basis while others were mixed with signers from various wards. The petitions were turned in Monday night.

The council deferred to its meeting Wednesday night action on a proposed ordinance which would make illegal selling, furnishing dispersing and fiving fermented malt beverages to persons under the age of 21 unless they were accompanied by parent, guardian or spouse.

Protest Action

The protest action followed the granting of a Class B fermented malt beverage license to Ald. Kenneth E. Parman for 700 Main street. Such a license would allow persons 18 years of age and over to purchase and consume beer on the premises.

Residents in that area at the Nov. 19 council meeting filed a petition with about 80 signatures protesting a teenage beer bar at that location.

Mayor Chester S. Bell pointed out at that meeting that the license which had been granted could not be revoked except for cause.

The only action, city officials said, would be to set a limit on the age for the sale of beer to persons, which the proposed ordinance would do.

Allenville Church Will See Films on New Baptist Camp

Allenville — Films on Camp Tamarack near Wauwapa, which was purchased this year by the Wisconsin Baptist State convention, will be shown by the Rev. Arthur J. Hyde, director of Christian education for the state convention, at the midweek vesper service at Community Baptist church at 7:45 p.m. Thursday.

The Baptist Women's Day of Prayer will be observed at the church at 1 p.m. Friday.

A communion service will be held in connection with the 10:45 a.m. worship service on Sunday.

Missionary circle will meet at 8:45 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Harry Edwards, 767 W. Cecil street, Neenah.

"Quest and Conquest" was the Rev. Perry Britton's meditation at the morning worship service Sunday at the church. The Rev. Irvine Robertson of Chicago, who with his wife and two sons were guests of the Brittons over the Thanksgiving weekend, gave the pastoral prayer and Mrs. Britton and Mrs. Robertson sang a duet.

Cultured Pearl

Cultured pearls are those grown scientifically in living oysters. The method used is to insert a bead as a nucleus or "irritant" in the oyster, which is then lowered to a specially prepared bed in the bottom of the tropical sea.

It takes from three to five years to make a cultured pearl. The layers of nacre deposited upon the nucleus are similar in structure to those of the Oriental or natural pearl. And upon the total thickness of these layers depends much of the beauty and value of the cultured pearl.

City Workers Pay Increase Undecided

Committee Awaits Study on Ways to Use $50,000

A decision on how to disperse $50,000 earmarked for city employees' pay raises was put off Monday night by the council's finance committee.

Carl K. Wettengel, director of the state bureau of personnel, state agency named to revise employee pay and job classification plans, urged percentage increases.

While no vote was taken, there were indications the committee may hold back some of the $50,000 to defray adjustments in pay when the new pay plan is put in effect, probably next Oct. 1.

Wettengel said his department would start work of revision in May or June and complete it in August. Committee men said they want to get the plan in effect before the next budget sessions.

Pay Plan Hikes
City Clerk Broehm was asked to determine how much would be taken from the $50,000 by a variety of percentages. He probably will return the figures at the next committee meeting, Dec. 11.

Pay increases now part of the present city employees' plan were recommended, effective Jan. 1. This includes the $240 annual increase for those in the last step of the pay plan this year.

(The pay plan provides minimum wages for certain job titles and calls for annual upward advancements from one pay scale to another. The council, in recent years, has augmented the plan by distributing another $50,000 in various ways.)

The council will vote on the pay plan increases Wednesday night.

Driver Gets Birthday Gift—Keeps His License

Youth Misses Mandatory Revocation By Only Four Hours, Judge Rules

A rural Black Creek youth today in municipal court kept his driver's license because it was his birthday.

Noting that Orrin M. Romanesko, route 2, Black Creek, was 18 today, Judge Oscar J. Schmiede asked him just when he would be 18 — adding that if he still was 17 the court would have to revoke his driver's license on the charge of speeding.

"I'm pretty sure it was about six in the morning," said Romanesko.

"Well, you made it by four hours — $10 fine and $3.95 costs," said the judge. Romanesko also will be charged points against his driving record for the offense.

Anna H. Thyssen, route 3, Appleton, pleaded no contest to a charge of inattentive driving and was fined $25. Eugene E. LeFevre, 54, 708 N. State street, employed in the rectifier department of Miller Electric Manufacturing company, took papers for Third ward alderman. Kenneth J. Loos, 35, 808 W. Winnebago street, took papers for the same job Monday. The incumbent alderman, Veteran Harvey Priebe, Sr., is moving from the ward shortly.

Harry J. Cunningham, 63, 626 E. Brewster street, a disabled World War I veteran, took papers for Seventeenth ward supervisor, a post he has held since 1940.

Scale Found

Last June Heckert's Shoe store, 119 E. College avenue, told police someone had run off with their scale—the small one giving weight for a penny. This week hunters found the scale, the money box, pried open, abandoned near the west end of County Trunk BB, near Highway 45.

Elmer J. Mayer, 51, Chicago, was fined $30 and charged three points for driving over the center line on the highway.

William G. Scott, 33, route 2, New London, was fined $10 and charged four points for driving without a license.

Donald Goodman, 24, route 2, Appleton, was charged with failing to have state authority to haul truck loads but the court dismissed the charge after the state failed to prove its case.

Duane I. Immel, 25, route 1, Hortonville, denied pulling an illegal vehicle train and posted $13.95 bond for trial Dec. 8.

Firemen to Inspect Stores for Hazards During Yule Season

City firemen will conduct a store-to-store inspection of the downtown business district throughout the retail Christmas season, Chief Neumann said today.

Purpose of the inspection will be to warn shopowners against overloading electrical outlets and careless storage of paper, both big fire hazards during the season, Neumann said.

2 More Races Taking Shape

Candidates Take Papers for Third, Seventh Ward Posts

Two more races in the April city election took shape today as four more prospective candidates got nomination papers from City Clerk Broehm.

At the same time, Arthur Hoolihan, 44, 409 E. South River street, became the first official nominee by filing completed papers for Eleventh ward supervisor.

Taking papers for Seventh ward alderman were Mrs. Dorothy Stullings, 1323 Oakcrest court, a housewife and the city's first and only woman alderman, and John M. Deeg, 45, 1611 W. Haskell street, a building contractor making his first bid for office. Mrs. Stullings has served five years.

Eugene E. LeFevre, 54, 708 N. State street, employed in the rectifier department of Miller Electric Manufacturing company, took papers for Third ward alderman. Kenneth J. Loos, 35, 808 W. Winnebago street, took papers for the same job Monday. The incumbent alderman, Veteran Harvey Priebe, Sr., is moving from the ward shortly.

Roy M. Lewis, retired industrialist and former principal of Hortonville High school who died April 19 at the age of 73, left an estate of $152,066, an accounting filed with County Judge Stanley A. Staidl shows.

Lewis, who died without leaving immediate survivors, left his estate to institutions, cousins and friends.

Largest bequest was $61,176 to Lawrence college, to be used for its Memorial Union. Other bequests were to the Hortonville Baptist church, Children's Service Society of Milwaukee, Milwaukee County Association for the Disabled and the Milwaukee Rescue Mission, $1,653 each.

Masonic Charities
The Wisconsin Masonic home was left $14,408 and Lewis willed the Shriner's hospital for crippled children in Chicago $7,322.

The Old Ladies' Home Benevolent society, Oshkosh, received $4,488.

Lewis left a telescope and $1,903 to the Milwaukee Astronomical society.

The Grand Avenue Congregational church of Milwaukee received $3,071.

State taxes took $6,563 of the estate and there were no federal taxes. Personal property made up most of the estate and the net estate distributed to beneficiaries totaled $143,067.

Shares Dip in Quiet Trade

Pace Slacks When Quotations Move Downward
New York — The stock market drifted lower today in much more quiet dealings than in recent excited sessions.

The losses did not amount to much but they were spread over important stock groups. The decline was no surprise to market analysts, who had expected it after three days of advancing prices.

An encouraging factor, brokers said, was that the trading pace slackened on the price slump. Volume for the first two hours today totaled 1,350,000 shares compared with 1,620,000 at the same time Monday.

Goodyear ran up more than four points in the rubber section. Standard Packaging reacted ahead more than a point in good volume.

Pfizer gained a fraction, as did Merck.

Radio Corp. advanced nearly two points, but most of the rest of the electronics group rested after Monday's upsurge. Zenith fell more than one point but wiped out the loss in later dealings.

American Telephone & Telegraph retreated on profit taking.

The steels, oils, metals and tobaccos were generally lower but in no case did losses run as much as one point in major stocks. Aircrafts were mixed.

Rails declined. Illinois Central lost one point as about the weakest stock in the group.

Low Mercury Level Prevails In Fox Cities

The Fox Cities had warmer temperatures today, but below-freezing mercury levels still prevailed.

Appleton had a high of 30 and a low of 14 during the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock. The temperature at 11 o'clock was 25 degrees.

A 30-day forecast issued by the weather bureau today predicts below-normal temperatures for December.

The 24-hour forecast for Wisconsin is partly cloudy in the south portion, with freezing rain and sleet tonight. Wednesday cloudy with snow flurries in the northeast portion.

The high Wednesday is expected to range in the 20s in the northeast.

Interest on U. S. Debt Tenth of Budget

Causes Dollar To Depreciate; Fixed Incomes Lose

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

It will be said that governments never pay off their debt. That's true. What they do instead is to cheat the citizen by devaluing whatever the purchasing power of the monetary unit happens to be.

If the millions of citizens who are thus being cheated understood it, they would not regard "inflation" as just a big word whose meaning they don't know. They would realize ize they are being robbed of their savings.

Today the dollar is worth 25 cents in comparison with what it was at the turn of the century 58 years ago.

In terms of 1930 values — when the public debt had been reduced to about $16 billion — the dollar today is worth 58 cents.

In terms of the dollar of 1939 — just two years before America's entrance into World war II — the present dollar is worth only 48 cents.

This is a shrinkage of more than half the purchasing power of the American dollar in a period of less than 20 years.

It's true that two world wars and the Korean war have materially increased the public debt. But that's not the reason it is bigger today than when the Korean war spending was at its height in 1951 and 1952. Actually, non-defense spending has also gone up very rapidly. The politicians in both parties have been insisting that the nation can afford guns and butter, too.

Eighth Grader Admits Slaying His Aunt, 23

Valley Stream, N. Y. — A stocky eighth grader has admitted the frenzied slaying of his 23-year-old aunt, mother of two small children.

Police said Richard C. Mazzioti, 14, told them he slew Mrs. Mary Lou Wright, a slender brunette, "because of a sudden urge I can't explain."

The boy's father, Novic Mazzioti, brother of the slain woman, found Mrs. Wright's body late Saturday night in her basement apartment. Her children, Robert Jr., 5, and Michael, 3, were asleep and unharmed.

Authorities said Richard had battered Mrs. Wright with a large soda bottle, a lamp, a power paint sprayer and a large jar with an electric cord. Then, they said, he stabbed her repeatedly with a carving knife and twisted the cord around her neck.

Mrs. Wright's husband, Robert, 26, was on a weekend hunting trip. He is employed by the sanitation department of this Long Island community.

Fundamental Shift in Politics Is to West

Alaskan Elections Emphasize Trend Toward Western-Southern Senate Control Coalition

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — Perhaps the most fundamental shift in the balance of political power of this generation is unfolding with ever rising significance in the American west.

Alaska's decision in its belated balloting to send two new Democratic senators here has had far more important results than to swell the Democratic majorities that resulted from elections held across the rest of the country.

It means of course, that the new senate will open in January with 64 Democrats to 34 Republicans. This is the largest margin of Democratic control since the high tide of the Franklin D. Roosevelt era.

Much more meaningful, however, is that Alaska, our 49th state, has now joined in a headlong western march to the Democratic party that will have consequences extending many years into the future.

Near-Total Control

Already, in the Nov. 4 voting, Democrats have swept through the far west like a desert sandstorm. They had seized four entrenched Republican senate seats in Wyoming, California, Nevada and Utah. They now have consolidated an almost total control and in part on common interest.

These western Democrats are universally liberal in things like public power, spending for public works and agricultural subsidies. They have an empire to build and they represent for the most part a have-not section of the country, long subject to economic discrimination from the east. So, too, the southerners. And so the southerners, with a handful of old guardist exceptions, find it easy to make common cause with the westerners. Each section believes, from one point of view, in moving the country forward. Or each section, from the orthodox Republican view, is quite expert in widely distributing money from the federal treasury.

Civil Rights Split

On a single issue, civil rights, the western-southern comradeship is far from close. But even here, the westerners have never been willing to burn the last bridge with the moderate southerners.

What is likely for the future is an increasingly successful western - moderate southern coalition. Actually it is potentially capable of mastering the senate—and it probably will do so.

At the same time, the power of the west in presidential elections, thus in presidential nominating conventions, has not risen with its senatorial power. This, of course, is because in the senate the small state has equal representation with the largest, whereas the presidential electoral vote of Nevada, say, is a small prize indeed.

Finally, then it is entirely possible that we shall see a new contest for ultimate power over public policies between the western - southern senate on the one side and the presidency that after 1960 is still likely to be dominated by the interest and attitudes of the east and midwest.

Fixed Income Losses

Then there are the persons below the age of 65 — the widows and orphans — who are dependent on fixed incomes from insurance policies or death-benefit funds. As the dollar fluctuates, these persons lose purchasing power each year.

The number of human beings affected directly or indirectly by the cheating process, whereby dollars originally saved are curtailed in purchasing power, may amount to at least 30,000,000 persons.

The congress has never felt the pressure it should from these voters because they are unorganized. But someday the citizens will know where to put the blame for the drop in the purchasing power of the dollar, and they will express their opposition to the policy of "guns and butter, too."

Defense is all-important for national safety. Luxuries and extravagances are not so essential. Yet the lobbies in congress for bigger and better welfare appropriations are very powerful. The Democratic party today has to accept the responsibility for the budget because, no matter what the president suggests, it is the congress that must decide on how much shall be spent.

'59 MERCURY CUTS THE HUMP IN THE FLOOR WAY DOWN. FIRST CAR WITH REAL COMFORT—even FOR CENTER-SEAT PASSENGERS

For 1959, Mercury's got what the other new cars forgot. For example, Mercury is the only new car that remembers "the man in the middle."

Other new cars still have that big tunnel-bump in the center of the floor. The so-called "6-passenger" models are only comfortable for 4 passengers. Center-seat passengers ride with their legs doubled up. But Mercury has cut the hump in half—shrunk it into a footrest. Seat cushioning is deep and soft. There's solid, stretch-out comfort wherever you sit.

Stop in. See all the ways Mercury turns problems into pleasures: windshield wipers that clear even the center, doors that are easy to get through (wider than in the costliest cars). And so much more—all at a price that 2 out of 3 new-car buyers can afford.
